Specific Student Learning Outcomes

In addition the course also addresses the following specific student learning outcomes.

1. Students will demonstrate their ability to critically review the professional literature on contemporary issues in Counseling Research particularly related to published research utilizing multicultural populations.
2. Students will demonstrate their ability to provide a written editorial feedback to students on their submitted work.
3. Students will demonstrate their ability to prepare a professional manuscript for submission to an appropriate professional outlet.
4. Students will demonstrate their ability to prepare a professional grant prospectus.
5. Students will demonstrate proficiency in use of Professional Writing skills as outlined in APA Manual of Style 6th edition.
6. Students will demonstrate ability to develop collaborative relationships with program facilitating in teaching, supervision, research, professional writing and service to the profession and the public by submitting a manuscript to a professional meeting. (See section VIII for measurement of outcomes)

VI. Course Topics

The major topics to be considered are focused on skill development in conducting and communicating research results in professional outlets. (See Section IX)

II. Instructional Methods and Activities

A variety of instructional methods will be utilized in this course including lecture, individual student and small group presentation.

Lectures. Lectures will address knowledge based topics such as the mechanics of conducting research, strategies for communicating results and navigating the publishing pipeline.

Independent Research Activities. Students will be assigned library research projects designed to expose them to the current literature being produced in most relevant professional outlets for counselors and counselor educators.

Peer Review Teams. Students will be assigned to writing and consulting teams which will serve as review panels for draft assignments. Students will submit draft assignments for review by independent reviewers who will submit written reviews consistent with editorial review processes.

VIII. Evaluation and Grade Assignment

The evaluation of student work will be aligned with student learning objectives.

1. Students will be required to write and present a 4-6 page paper which introduces a professional Journal and presents the findings of a content analysis of the published abstracts during the past 12 month period with a specific focus on the extent multicultural emphasis (15 points). Student performance on this assignment will be evaluated based on content (0-10 points) will be earned for adequate coverage of the journal content. Format and style points (0-5) will be earned for conforming to APA format and including all required sections as described below.

Each student’s write up and presentation must be in APA style and address each of the following:

Introduction to the Empirical Outlet

a. Students will introduce an assigned publication outlet from the official journal of an ACA division. In their review, students will describe the publisher guidelines for the outlet including:
   i. Publisher notes about scope of the outlet
ii. Notes to potential contributors; number of pages; content and format of submission
iii. Impact on the field (citation SSCI; or other indices of impact)
iv. Information about acceptance rates

Students will also be required to illustrate the appropriate use of these guidelines by presenting ‘a typical article’ from those reviewed. The student will use annotation in the margins to comment on the typicality style and focus of articles published in the outlet.

Content Analysis of Journal Abstracts for Multicultural Emphasis:

b. Students will be asked to conduct and present the findings of a content analysis of articles published for the most recent calendar year. The specific emphasis of this content analysis will be to describe the extent to which multicultural issues are infused into the corpus of published articles during the period of the review.

c. Students will base their conclusions on analysis of the published abstracts of the publication. The content to be reviewed will be the published abstracts of each article. Students will begin their review with the guidelines listed below

Abstract Review Codes

Explicit listing of multicultural focus in Title or Abstract
2. In depth focus of cultural, language, racial, religious, sex preference group specifically stated in the abstract
3. Focus on multicultural issue as an independent variable: race/ethnicity etc. listed in title (not just described as a result)
   i. Key words in Title or Abstract or below abstract indicating multicultural significance of research endeavor.

4. Participate in peer review panel to provide feedback to their classmates on draft weekly writing assignments. This will involve: 1) providing formal review of at least two (2) students’ draft work as well as a second round of reviewing after any revision. And serving as Editor and coordinating feedback to author through summary of independent reviews. Each student will be responsible for maintaining documentation of written reviews and editorial feedback in a notebook to be turned in periodically to Instructor. This portion of the notebook should therefore contain a total of 4 written reviews and at least 1 editorial review (15 points). Student performance on this assignment will be evaluated based on competing four reviews and 1 written editorial response (0-10 points). Five additional points (0-5) will be earned based on the informativeness and thoroughness of the feedback they provide as determined by instructor independent review.
Peer Review Panel Details

i. Each Person will serve as a reviewer for two independent submissions & Editor for one. The reviewer will complete a manuscript review form and write 1-2 pages of commentary. Editors will also complete an independent review, and will have the additional responsibility of providing feedback to the author in the form of an editorial decision (review that reflects the input of two independent reviewers as well as his/her own decision).

3. Documentation of completion of weekly workbook writing assignments. Including consultation feedback given and received from group members (10 points). Student performance on this assignment will be evaluated based on competing appropriate assignments on the days they are due for classroom discussion.

4. Prepare a manuscript of professional quality for submission to a professional journal demonstrating their command of APA writing style techniques and mechanics on an original topic (15-20 pages). Evaluation of the final product will include consideration of the quality of drafts and incorporation of reviewer/editorial feedback (25 points) Student performance on this assignment will be evaluated based on the overall quality and presentation of the paper as indicative of a professionally prepared article submitted for professional publication (0-20 points). Five points will be earned for format and style (0-5) conformation to APA standards including all required sections of a manuscript.

5. Submit a grant proposal prospectus (8-12 pages) designed to support work for a planned research agenda. Which includes a literature review in an approved topic area and provides an outline of goals, objectives, and methods of evaluation for the proposed work for which funding are being requested. This prospectus must build on a research agenda identified and justified in previous class exercises (20 points) Student performance on this assignment will be evaluated based on content (0-15 points). Format and style points (0-5) will be earned for conforming to APA format and including all required sections as well as creativity and plausibility of research ideas.

6. Submit a proposal for an educational session to a professional meeting (e.g., ACA, TCA). The proposal can be derivative of the professional manuscript, grant proposal or research agenda being prepared concurrently in class (15 points) Student performance on this assignment will be evaluated based on content (0-10 points). Format and style points (0-5) will be earned for conforming to APA format and including all required sections as well as creativity and plausibility of research ideas that are consistent with standards for acceptance for presentation at meetings of professional counseling organizations.

Student grades will be assigned according to a 100 point scale

B. Course Policies

Attendance/tardiness

Attendance during class periods is necessary for an optimal learning experience for oneself and peers. Absences for university approved reasons will be accepted and considered when arranging for make-up credit. Unexcused absences will have a direct impact on grades as normally these absences result in the forfeiture of points available for earning on the day of absence. Students will be responsible for make-up of all the missed work on days of their absence. Experiential exercises are an important component of the class some of which will require an alternate assignment to substitute for experiences missed. The alternative assignment will involve an activity/assignment commensurate in time and learning objectives to the one missed. All make ups must be arranged individually with the instructor.

Late work and Make-up Exams

Assignments are due during the periods designated for the course to meet. Overdue work will be deducted the equivalent of one letter grade each day tardy. No late work will be accepted beyond the last class day for the semester. Make-up exams must be scheduled within one week unless exceptional and verified circumstances apply.

Cell Phone/Electronic Device Usage

Cell phones and electronic paging devices are to be silenced during class times. Students serving on emergency call are to notify the instructor.

Academic Integrity

University students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic integrity. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, falsification, forgery, complicity or plagiarism. Students should familiarize themselves with University policy concerning academic integrity and academic misconduct by reading the Student Handbook. In this class, any academic misconduct will result in a grade of 0 on the assignment and a report submitted to Student Affairs. In addition, a grade of 0 in the course or departmental action may be initiated.

Required method of scholarly citations
Other than informal journal writing or similar assignments, all written work is to be typed and comply with the APA (6th Edition) writing and publication guidelines. Failure to follow APA guidelines may result in significant point reduction. Work will be evaluated for style, content, grammar, spelling, and syntax.

Classroom/professional behavior
The ability to work in small groups is an integral aspect of this course. Consistent participation, shared assumption of responsibility, and cooperative presentation of the group assignment are expected.

X. Textbook(s)

Readings from Professional journals in counseling, counselor education and related fields
Students will be assigned one of the 12 divisional journals of the American Counseling association.

Recommended but not required supplementary textbooks are:

XII. Grade Appeals

As stated in University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, and University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures. These documents are accessible through the University Rules Web site at http://www.tamucc.edu/provost/university_rules/index.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Office of Student Affairs.

XIII. Disabilities Accommodations

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Driftwood 101.

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.
