All products will be critically evaluated for correct spelling and grammar. As a professional educator, you must model clear and correct writing at all times. Proofread, and may I suggest have someone else proofread, all products prior to turning them in to be graded.

All products need to be typed, double-spaced, 12-pt font
(Unless otherwise specified)

1. (4) TExES PPR Quizzes (200 points) (50 points each)
PPR Exams will be given after Domain I: Designing Instruction (Competencies 1-4); Domain II: Creating a Positive, Productive Classroom Environment (Competencies 5-6); Domain III: Implementing Effective, Responsive Instruction & Assessment (Competencies 7-10); and Domain IV: Professional Roles & Responsibilities (Competencies 11-13).

2. Teaching Lessons (500 points) (lesson plan and reflection -50 pts; CT and SP formal evaluation-50 pts.)
You will be expected to teach at least six lessons in your assigned classroom this semester. All lesson plans must be discussed with your clinical teacher prior to the day the lesson(s) is taught. Below is a description of the lessons and how they will be evaluated:

- The first lesson that you teach will be videotaped. Due by _____________. You will personally critique the video tape of the lesson and turn in the lesson plan along with a reflection analysis of your lesson all at one time, stapled together on the Tuesday or Thursday after you taught the lesson. (You will be provided the guidelines, “Video Tape Self-Evaluation”) Lesson Plan and Reflection-50pts.

- An informal observation will be conducted by a peer of your choice on your second lesson. The peer will personally observe you teaching a lesson and then will discuss areas of strengths and areas of recommendations. Due by ______________. You will turn in the lesson plan, a written reflection of the lesson from your perspective, along with the peer’s analysis all at one time, stapled together on the Tuesday or Thursday after you taught the lesson. (You will be provided the guidelines for the reflection, and the Informal Observation form to be given to the peer, along with your lesson plan, when he/she comes to observe. Lesson Plan, Reflection, and Peer Observation-50pts.

- Two lessons will be observed and critiqued by your clinical teacher. Your first lesson evaluation is due ____________. Your second lesson evaluation is due ____________. Please turn in your lesson plan, the critique completed by the clinical teacher, and your reflection all at one time, stapled together on the Tuesday or Thursday after you taught the lesson. (You will be provided the guidelines, “Lesson Self-Evaluation/Reflection” and the observation form). You will present your evaluation form and lesson plan to your clinical teacher just before the observation.
Two lessons will be observed and evaluated by Dr. Hill and/or Nicki Sohn, TA, PhD Candidate in Curriculum & Instruction. Your first lesson observation is due ____________. Your second lesson observation is due ____________. Again, turn in your lesson plan and reflection all at one time, stapled together on the Tuesday or Thursday after you taught the lesson. Dr. Hill or Ms. Sohn will schedule a time to discuss the lessons after receiving the lesson plan and reflection. (You will be provided the guidelines, “Lesson Self-Evaluation/Reflection” and the observation form). You will present your evaluation form and lesson plan to Dr. Hill and/or Nicki Sohn just before the observation.

All lesson plans will follow the format discussed in class (template will be provided). Students must write a self-evaluation after each lesson taught. You must provide reaction to the questions provided in the guidelines. It is important that you learn to be a reflective practitioner. Examining the effectiveness of the lesson is an excellent way to improve your skills. Self-evaluations should include positive remarks as well as suggestions for improvement. The Self-Evaluation needs to be written in narrative form and at least 1 ½ pages long to be truly reflective.

You must score at least 35/50 points on each of the four evaluated lessons. It may be necessary for some students to teach more lessons. If the student does not meet the minimum 35 point criteria on four lessons, the student will not be recommended for student teaching.

LEARNER-CENTERED KNOWLEDGE

The teacher possesses and draws on a rich knowledge base of content, pedagogy, and technology to provide relevant and meaningful learning experiences for all students.

The teacher exhibits a strong working knowledge of subject matter and enables students to better understand patterns of thinking specific to a discipline. The teacher stays abreast of current knowledge and practice within the content area, related disciplines, and technology; participates in professional development activities; and collaborates with other professionals. Moreover, the teacher contributes to the knowledge base and understands the pedagogy of the discipline.

As the teacher guides learners to construct knowledge through experiences, they learn about relationships among and within the central themes of various disciplines while also learning how to learn. Recognizing the dynamic nature of knowledge, the teacher selects and organizes topics so students make clear connections between what is taught in the classroom and what they experience outside the classroom. As students probe these relationships, the teacher encourages discussion in which both the teacher’s and the students’ opinions are valued. To further develop multiple perspectives, the teacher integrates other disciplines, learners’ interests, and technological resources so that learners consider the central themes of the subject matter from as many different cultural and intellectual viewpoints as possible.

LEARNER-CENTERED INSTRUCTION

To create a learner-centered community, the teacher collaboratively identifies needs; and plans, implements, and assesses instruction using technology and other resources.

The teacher is a leader of a learner-centered community, in which an atmosphere of trust and openness produces a stimulating exchange of ideas and mutual respect. The teacher is a critical thinker and problem solver who plays a variety of roles when teaching. As a coach, the teacher observes, evaluates, and changes directions and strategies whenever necessary. As a facilitator, the teacher helps students link ideas in the content area to familiar ideas, to prior experiences, and to relevant problems. As a manager, the teacher effectively acquires, allocates, and conserves resources. By encouraging self-directed learning and by modeling respectful behavior, the teacher effectively manages the learning environment so that optimal learning occurs.

Assessment is used to guide the learner community. By using assessment as an integral part of instruction, the teacher responds to the needs of all learners. In addition, the teacher guides learners to develop personally meaningful forms of self-assessment.

The teacher selects materials, technology, activities, and space that are developmentally appropriate and designed to engage interest in learning. As a result, learners work independently and cooperatively in a positive and stimulating learning climate fueled by self-discipline and motivation.

Although the teacher has a vision for the destination of learning, students set individual goals and plan how to reach the destination. As a result, they take responsibility for their own learning, develop a sense of the importance of learning for understanding, and begin to understand themselves as learners. The teacher’s plans integrate learning experiences and various forms of assessment that take into consideration the unique characteristics of the learner community. The teacher shares responsibility for the results of this process with all members of the learning community.

Together, learners and teachers take risks in trying out innovative ideas for learning. To facilitate learning, the teacher encourages various types of learners to shape their own learning through active engagement, manipulation, and examination of ideas and materials. Critical thinking, creativity, and problem solving spark further learning. Consequently, there is an appreciation of learning as a life-long process that builds a greater understanding of the world and a feeling of responsibility toward it.
EQUITY IN EXCELLENCE FOR ALL LEARNERS
The teacher responds appropriately to diverse groups of learners.

The teacher not only respects and is sensitive to all learners but also encourages the use of all their skills and talents. As the facilitator of learning, the teacher models and encourages appreciation for students’ cultural heritage, unique endowments, learning styles, interests, and needs. The teacher also designs learning experiences that show consideration for these student characteristics.

Because the teacher views differences as opportunities for learning, cross-cultural experiences are an integral part of the learner-centered community. In addition, the teacher establishes a relationship between the curriculum and community cultures. While making this connection, the teacher and students explore attitudes that foster unity. As a result, the teacher creates an environment in which learners work cooperatively and purposefully using a variety of resources to understand themselves, their immediate community, and the global society in which they live.

LEARNER-CENTERED COMMUNICATION
While acting as an advocate for all students and the school, the teacher demonstrates effective professional and interpersonal communication skills.

As a leader, the teacher communicates the mission of the school with learners, professionals, families, and community members. With colleagues, the teacher works to create an environment in which taking risks, sharing new ideas, and innovative problem solving are supported and encouraged. With citizens, the teacher works to establish strong and positive ties between the school and the community.

Because the teacher is a compelling communicator, students begin to appreciate the importance of expressing their views clearly. The teacher uses verbal, nonverbal, and media techniques so that students explore ideas collaboratively, pose questions, and support one another in their learning. The teacher and students listen, speak, read, and write in a variety of contexts; give multimedia and artistic presentations; and use technology as a resource for building communication skills. The teacher incorporates techniques of inquiry that enable students to use different levels of thinking.

The teacher also communicates effectively as an advocate for each learner. The teacher is sensitive to concerns that affect learners and takes advantage of community strengths and resources for the learners’ welfare.

LEARNER-CENTERED PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
The teacher, as a reflective practitioner dedicated to all students’ success, demonstrates a commitment to learn, to improve the profession, and to maintain professional ethics and personal integrity.

As a learner, the teacher works within a framework of clearly defined professional goals to plan for and profit from a wide variety of relevant learning opportunities. The teacher develops an identity as a professional, interacts effectively with colleagues, and takes a role in setting standards for teacher accountability. In addition, the teacher uses technological and other resources to facilitate continual professional growth.

To strengthen the effectiveness and quality of teaching, the teacher actively engages in an exchange of ideas with colleagues, observes peers, and encourages feedback from learners to establish a successful learning community. As a member of a collaborative team, the teacher identifies and uses group processes to make decisions and solve problems.

The teacher exhibits the highest standard of professionalism and bases daily decisions on ethical principles. To support the needs of learners, the teacher knows and uses community resources, school services, and laws relating to teacher responsibilities and student rights. Through these activities, the teacher contributes to the improvement of comprehensive educational programs as well as programs within specific disciplines.
