Course Description:
FINA 3310, Financial Management, is an introductory survey of financial management issues and is a business core requirement. The course emphasizes planning and decision making. It covers specific topics such as discounted cash flow analysis, stock and bond valuation, financial intermediation, organizing, raising and managing capital, capital investment, risk analysis, and financial statement analysis. Lectures and class discussion are supplemented with sample problems, and outside readings. Quantitative techniques are introduced to facilitate analysis.

Learning Objectives:
By the end of this course, the students will be able to:
1. Calculate the present and future values of a lump sum and regular annuity.
2. Use the Security Market line to measure an asset’s return when given its risk, or vice versa.
3. Understand the Weighted Average Cost of Capital.
4. Calculate Net Present Value, Internal Rate of Return, and determine if an investment is acceptable.
5. Differentiate the characteristics of stocks and bonds.
6. Effectively review and prepare for the Major Field Test for business majors.

Relationship to Other Coursework:
Knowledge of the subject matter in this course is a requisite to comprehending advanced financial management concepts contained in FINA 4310, Advanced Financial Management. The principles of financial management form a foundation for concepts in related finance courses including investments, risk management, real estate, and financial markets and institutions.

Instructional Methodology:
Lectures may be supplemented by class discussion, handouts, questions and answer sessions, computer presentations and videos.

Performance Evaluation and Grading:
Four tests and a final exam will be given. The final exam will be cumulative. Test materials will come from lecture notes, the text, assigned readings, homework, and class discussion. Test format is primarily multiple choice; questions will emphasize the understanding and application of concepts and topics covered.
Students will prepare a written project. To facilitate student mastery of financial concepts, problems will be assigned that following discussion of each major topic area. A semester project is required and outside readings may be assigned. Students should prepare for class meetings by studying the assigned text materials and preparing problems and other assignments prior to class.

Exam dates will be announced in class. No make-up exams will be administered. If you must miss an exam, notify me in advance and provide written documentation that the absence was an excused University activity, a severe illness, or a dire emergency. Otherwise, I will assign you a zero for the exam.
Exams are closed book. A small index card with formulas is allowed, but the index cards are collected after the exam. To protect the integrity of the test banks employed, exams will not be returned. However, exams are available for review in my office during scheduled office hours for two weeks after the exam.
Students are responsible for all material in the assigned readings, handouts, homework, and class presentations.
All assignments are to be turned in at the beginning of the class on their due date unless otherwise instructed. Late assignments are penalized 20 percentage points for each day that they are late.

Cell Phone / Pager and Laptop Policy:
I expect everyone to follow all rules of common courtesy during classroom lecture and discussion. The presence of cell phones and pagers as well as other disruptive items or actions are prohibited in the classroom. Laptops used for any purpose other than class work is prohibited.
Oral and Written Communication Requirements:
Students are required to prepare a formal written project for the semester. Effective written communication is also necessary for exams and homework.

Technological Applications:
Students are required to use computer applications, computer databases, and online information services for this course. As discussed below case analyses must be performed using electronic spreadsheet. Written presentation must be prepared with word processing software. Use of computer graphics and computer-based audio-visuals is encouraged. Some portions of the project require the use of computer databases and online information services.

Ethical Perspectives:
Ethical issues such as wealth expropriation, socially conscious operations, and insider trading are discussed. Agency and other stakeholder conflicts are briefly explored.

Attendance Policy
Experience has shown that regular attendance is essential to successful completion of any course. Attendance will be taken at every class meeting.

Global Perspectives:
As even small to mid-size firms are now involved in multinational trade and operations, corporate finance is a global activity. While we have a separate course for international finance (FINA 4315), this course introduces international trade, foreign equity and debt issue.

Political, Social, Legal, Regulatory, and Environmental Perspectives:
The course will consider the structure, regulation, influence, and role in corporations and markets of a variety of governmental and social entities.

Time
Success in this class depends on your ability to correctly work the exam problems. The best way to accomplish this is to practice the sample problems and work the problems at the end of the chapter. A general rule of thumb is that the student should spend at least 3 hours of personal study time for each hour of class instruction. Exams are hard and some students may not be able to finish the exam if they are not prepared.

ACADEMIC HONESTY:
University students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, forgery, or plagiarism (the presentation of the work of another as one’s own work). The University policy of scholastic dishonesty will be strictly followed with no exceptions. Understand that the University definition of scholastic dishonesty will be strictly adhered to and any student caught providing or receiving assistance on an exam will immediately be given a grade of “F” for the course. This course, and all other courses offered by the College of Business (COB), requires all of its students to abide by the COB Student Code of Ethics (available online at www.cob.tamucc.edu).
Provisions and stipulations in the code are applicable to all students taking College of Business courses regardless of whether or not they are pursuing a degree awarded by the COB.

Americans with Disabilities Act Compliance:
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact the Disability Services Office at (361) 825-5816 or visit the office in Corpus Christi Hall 116.

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

Grade Appeals
As stated in University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, and University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures. These documents are accessible through the University Rules Web site at http://www.tamucc.edu/provost/university_rules/index.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Office of Student Affairs.

Major Field Test
The Major Field Test (MFT) is required for all students pursuing the Bachelor of Business Administration degree and will be administered in the MGMT 4388 course, “Administrative Policy and Strategy.” To prepare for this test, business majors are advised to retain their class notes, textbooks, and other relevant materials from this class and the other business core courses. Students will enroll in BUSI 0088 “MFT Review” (concurrently with MGMT 4388) during their final semester; this online course should fine-tune their readiness for the MFT by encouraging them to complete the online MFT review materials and required quizzes available on the course Blackboard learning modules.
