In addition, you should come to class prepared to stay the full time. If you must leave during class, please inform me at the beginning of class and then leave without causing a disturbance.

Late homework or quizzes: Absolutely no homework or quizzes will be accepted after the due date. Make-ups for homework and quizzes are not allowed.

Make-up Exams: Make-up exams are not available. If an Exam is missed, the instructor may allow the final exam to count for the missed exam grade. Do not assume you will be granted this privilege. Contact the instructor before missing the exam or as quickly as possible after missing the exam to discuss the missed exam.

Other Exam Policies: Use of cell phones or other electronic devices during an exam will be considered a violation of academic honesty and will result in a zero on the exam and other consequences as deemed appropriate by the instructor.

Exam Calculators: Simple, four function calculators are all that is necessary for this course. Programmable calculators are not recommended. Calculators used for exams must be approved by the instructor prior to the beginning of each exam.

Return of Exams: Failure to return an exam at the end of a testing period or at the end of the class when the exam is reviewed will be considered a violation of academic honesty. Graded exams will be reviewed in class and then returned to the instructor. You will not be allowed to keep your exams. The exams will be available in the instructor’s office for discussion during office hours.

Accounting often involves gray areas that require judgment to resolve. Throughout the text, the importance of forming ethical judgments in these situations is stressed. Furthermore, some of the assigned material from the text focuses explicitly on the ethical dimension of accounting decision making.

Global Perspectives:

The globalization of many business entities raises the issue of international accounting practices. This course discusses the International Accounting Standards Board and the dynamic relationship with U.S. based Financial Accounting Standards Board and the international merging of accounting standards.

Demographic Diversity Perspectives:

This course will not specifically address the issue of demographic diversity.

Political, Social, Legal, Regulatory, and Environmental Perspectives:

Dropping Class:

I hope that you never find it necessary to drop this or any other class. However, events can sometimes occur that make dropping a course necessary or wise. Please consult with me before you decide to drop to be sure it is the best thing to do. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class. Friday, November 15, 2013 is the last day to drop a class with an automatic grade of "W" for this term.

Grade Appeals:

As stated in University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals and University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures. These documents are accessible through the University Rules Web site at http://www.tamucc.edu/provost/university_rules/index.html.
