Blackboard 9.1 will be used in teaching this course.

I. Course Description
A course designed to familiarize students with the cultural differences of special populations of people. Emphasis on ethical use of appropriate counseling techniques for use with the major racial/ethnic groups and other special populations of people such as those who are physically or emotionally disabled, older, of different genders or of different sexual orientation.

II. Rationale
Practitioners must be exposed to the subgroups present in American society. These subgroups can be based on age, gender, sexual orientation, mental and physical characteristics, education, religious and spiritual values, socio-economic status or other commonalities. Knowledge, awareness, and skills are all necessary to be able to be effective in their ‘helping’ roles. This course will assist practitioners in improving their effectiveness by developing appropriate attitudes, information, and self-understanding.

III. State Adopted Proficiencies for Teachers and/or Administrators/Counselors

Class Requirements:
1. Class Participation (10 points)
Students are expected to participate and engage during class. Discussion should be constructive, honest, and informed (based on completed class readings). Participation includes, but is not limited to, participating in in-class assignments, group discussions & group exercises. Participation is also measured in attendance & punctuality to class. It should be noted that attendance and punctuality is expected and will be excused only under special circumstances as determined by the instructor. Given that true learning takes place in discussion and interaction with others where students express and articulate their ideas, participation is a crucial aspect of this course.

2. Cultural Autobiography (15 points)
Students will write a reflective paper on two cultural aspects of their identity and how these identities have impacted their life and development. Students are expected to incorporate aspects of class readings and discussions. This assignment is not a recounting of events in the students life. It is a critical examination of particular identities in their lives. This assignment will be 3-5 pages not including cover page and bibliography.

3. Film Critique and Analysis (2 movies) (20 points)
This assignment will be 1-2 pages per movie. Students will watch and analyze two movies. The movie choices will be distributed. The following should be addressed in your analysis: Level of acculturation, Degree of acculturative stress, Aspects of worldview (individualistic v collectivistic), The role of the family (e.g. family relationships and values), Portrayal of people from different cultural backgrounds portrayed (e.g. ethnicity, religion/spirituality, sexual orientation, social class, etc.), examples of microaggressions and/or stereotypes, and any important historical considerations. Students will present their analysis orally to their peers. A summary of the movie should not be included.

4. Development of a Cross-cultural Relationship with Application of the Multicultural Counseling Competencies (MCC) (25 points)
Identify an opportunity to experience a culture different from your own. You may choose an individual or group for this experience. The objective is to increase your awareness and understanding of that individual and culture. Students should plan to meet between 3 to 5 different times with this person or group.

Students will present their experiences to the class (15-20 minutes). The presentation should illustrate the significance and importance of the cross-cultural relationship. The class should have a clear understanding of this person or group and the significance of their personal information to the field of MC counseling. Discuss fundamental aspects counselors should be aware of when working with this group. Some helpful guidelines would be to start by presenting some personal information about the person, name and briefly summarizing their culture. The modality and/or format will be left up to the presenter. The presentation should include a handout for each member of the class including instructor with information that may include: (a) Background and overview of group, (b) relevance to counselors or suggestions for counselors, (c) journal article(s) for further information, and (d) helpful resources.

You may use the following as additional guidelines during the presentation:
   a. Description of the experience. (The What, Where, When & How of the experience)
   b. What was it about this experience that intrigued you and where did that interest come from?)
   c. Discussion of feelings (emotions) and reactions (thoughts) before, during and after the experience. (Were these your anticipated feelings and reactions? Where do you think they came from? What does it mean to you?)
   d. What was learned from the experience?
   e. Discussion of the personal value of this experience as a counselor-in-training?

5. Group Presentation on Specific Multicultural Populations (30 points)
In the first class meeting, you will have the opportunity to choose a particular multicultural population for which you must research and develop a group presentation. Your group will have 60-75 minutes to present your findings utilizing PowerPoint and demonstrating professional presentation skills. You may use our text as a resource and starting point, but you must also incorporate information from at least 3 other peer-reviewed articles. More details will be discussed in class.

B. Class Policies
1. All cell phones must be turned off and remain off during class. Personal computers are not allowed in class.
2. Students are expected to attend and participate in every class session unless there is a valid emergency/reason. Promptness is expected, as is staying for the entire class. Inform the instructor about legitimate reasons for missing class. More than two absences will result in the lowering of a letter grade. More than 3 lapses in punctuality will be equivalent to an absence. Any excused absence is left to the discretion of the instructor.
3. All assignments should be typed using APA format and Times New Roman, 12-point font. No handwritten work will be accepted.
4. It is the responsibility of the student to schedule a meeting with the instructor when there are concerns about course work or student progress.
5. Students are expected to notify the professor if an unavoidable absence is required and he/she should consult with small group members about class notes, handouts, and/or exercises.
6. Students are expected to consult Blackboard to prepare assignments ahead of time to avoid a late penalty. All late assignments will receive a ten-percent late penalty and will not be accepted after the second day.

Students enrolled in the Counseling and Educational Psychology Department must maintain high scholastic standards and develop skills necessary to work with people with diverse needs. Students are expected to demonstrate emotional and mental fitness in their professional fields and to conform to the current ACA Code of Ethics and any other codes of ethics of relevant professional associations as well as the State of Texas. A student’s acceptance in the Counseling and Educational Psychology Department does not guarantee professional fitness, which is required to remain in the program. At any time, if a student does not seem professionally fit, he/she may be referred to a faculty review committee to discuss the student’s needs. In accordance with departmental goals and standards, students are expected to exhibit:
an attitude that respects individual uniqueness and potential growth and development of all individuals; personal stability as well as professional and ethical behaviors according to the ACA Code of Ethics and Texas law; awareness of, knowledge about, and skills in working with diverse populations in a pluralistic society; productive and cooperative working relationships that display motivation, independence, maturity, adaptability, and respect for others; a commitment to continuing personal and professional growth characterized both by participation in experiential and diverse learning opportunities and professional organizations that promote counselor identity; and a commitment to participation in professional organizations and production and presentation of scholarly papers and publications.

Students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, falsification, forgery, complicity or plagiarism. (Plagiarism is the presentation of the work of another as one’s own work.) In this class, academic misconduct or complicity in an act of academic misconduct on an assignment or test will result in no credit for the work in question.

Students please consult with professor before deciding to drop a class. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the process to drop the course by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class. Check for the last day to drop a class with an automatic grade of “W” this term.

XII. Grade Appeals

As stated in University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, and University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures. These documents are accessible through the University Rules Web site at HYPERLINK "http://www.tamucc.edu/provost/university_rules/index.html". For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Office of Student Affairs.

XIII. Disabilities Accommodations

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Driftwood 101.

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.
