Please note: College is not High School. It is to your great advantage to get to know your professors. This means periodically visiting during office hours. We (or at least I) have no interest in using office hours to lecture you on your attendance or poor performance. We (or at least I) do like to use office hours to help students better understand the expectations of the course, their degree plans, and the best strategies for succeeding in college. Office hours are a resource that successful students soon learn to use to their advantage. If you are nervous (and most students are at first), plan to visit with a friend.

COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course surveys the history of the United States from the end of the Civil War to the present. The period witnessed a radical reconstruction of ideas on race and gender, the formation of national issue-oriented political parties, the evolution of a powerful industrial-capitalist economy, and the emergence of U.S. influence on the international stage. More importantly, the age saw a deliberate and on-going effort by millions of Americans to express, support, and expand notions of democracy and republicanism for everyone in the United States. This course takes these noble aspirations seriously; asking where and how Americans defined these concepts, whether or not they were met, and how the major social movements both reflected and forced the broader economic and political changes of the era.

Clearly, then, the history of this era is very complex. A survey of American history moves quickly and covers only a portion of these questions. Measuring how well students learn this material is not an exact science, yet historians agree that developing certain analytical skills are essential. The graded components of this course are designed to strengthen these analytical skills.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statue that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides a reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact the Disability Services Office at 361-825-5816.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES
Students who successfully complete this course will:
• demonstrate critical thinking by combining, changing, or reapplying existing information, gathering and assessing information relevant to a question, and analyzing, evaluating, and synthesizing information;
• develop communication skills by interpreting and expressing ideas through written, oral, or visual communication;
• demonstrate personal responsibility by evaluating historical choices and actions, and relating consequences to decision making;
• develop social responsibility by identifying intercultural competence and civic responsibility in past regional, national, and global communities.

REQUIRED BOOKS

All of the books are available for purchase at the University bookstore or through the Internet. The books on reserve at the library under my name and this course number. You can also find and download files containing all of the lecture notes and study guides on Blackboard. Please see me if you have trouble accessing these electronic materials.
GRADING STRUCTURE

D = 59.51-69.49
F = 0-59.49

YOU CAN NOT RESCHEDULE THE FINAL EXAM WITHOUT THE DEAN’S PRIOR AUTHORIZATION

DESCRIPTION OF GRADED EVENTS

Four Exams (70% of final grade) will ask you to identify the significance of several key terms AND for a single well-argued essay answer. Each exam is weighted differently when computing your final grade: Exam 1=10%, Exam 2 and 3 = 17.5% each, Exam 4=25%. The last/final exam will not be comprehensive. The readings based on the assigned Triangle Fire book will comprise a portion of either the second or third exam.

NOTE: The common assignment for Tetrad N will be included in this component of your final grade. More information about this assignment and its weighted grade will be announced in class.

Quizzes Based on Give Me Liberty and Seminar/Common Assignments (15% of final grade) The quizzes will be scheduled and relate to the assigned readings for that day. At least two “integrated assignments” given in Seminar will count towards this grade. In addition, I may assign optional work that can be used as a replacement grade for readings quizzes. These quizzes cannot be taken after the assigned due date. The final quiz grade will be determined by a cumulative average of your quiz scores over the term. I will allow students to drop at least two quiz scores from this average (including missed assignments). You can not drop the grades for your integrated assignment.

Three Short Reflection Papers based on The 9/11 Commission Report with Related Documents (15% of final grade). These papers are due on the days indicated on the schedule. A handout will be distributed in class and/or through Blackboard with complete instructions.

Attendance Policy. Your attendance in class is required and will be recorded over the semester. For each day above three unexcused absences, your final term grade will be lowered by 3 percentage points. Students with more than six unexcused absences will be expected to drop the course.

Hurricane policy: In the event of a hurricane, I follow the published policies of TAMU-CC. If the campus remains officially open during the time that our class normally meets then class will proceed as scheduled (including all graded events). If the university closes campus then, of course, we push to the next class period. If an exam date is cancelled, the exam is held at the next class meeting.

GETTING THE MOST OUT OF THIS CLASS

This course does not require that you memorize speeches, dates, or statistics that (as University students) you are wise enough to look up in any textbook (okay, probably the internet). The focus in this course is on finding the significance of people, events, and ideas. Most people do this in their everyday lives. Your job for the next fifteen weeks is to apply and develop this skill for U.S. history from 1865.

Students who compete for the highest grades regularly attend class, read the assigned work, take their own notes, and learn how to best manage their time. Students who do well also take time to read and understand the syllabus, to ask questions when confused, and to prepare for assignments in advance. Regular attendance in any college course is a strong predictor of student grades. Students who learn how to use office hours is also a strong predictor of success.

FINAL EXAM: 8:00AM-10:30AM, Wednesday, December 10
Held in our regular classroom; Not Comprehensive

---

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY, ATTENDANCE, AND OTHER CLASS POLICIES

It is my experience that most students attend class regularly, behave as adults, submit assignments and take exams on time, perform well over the term, and do not cheat. Unfortunately, the following rules are necessary for the remaining few.

The environment of the classroom demands that we conduct ourselves like adults and with respect for each other. As a result, the following guidelines will be followed:

- always conduct yourself with respect and civility toward others. Abusive language or behavior will not be tolerated.
- please turn off or set to vibrate all cell phones and pagers. If you must take a call, do so outside of class.
- please be aware that talking, leaving early, arriving late, and other disruptive behavior affects your peers’ ability to learn the material. Excessive disruptive behavior will not be tolerated.
- dozing-off sometimes happens (even in my electrifying lectures), but DO NOT come to my class to sleep.
- please refer to the TAMU-CC Student Code of Conduct for a more complete treatment of your rights and responsibilities while in class.

Be absolutely clear: I will hold you responsible should your behavior negatively affect others in class. If this happens repeatedly, you will be removed from the class (even if it is the last week of the term).
The penalty for academic dishonesty is clearly specified in the current Undergraduate Bulletin. I will follow these guidelines. In addition, students will be awarded zero points for any assignment in which cheating is detected. Plagiarism is considered by me and the University to be cheating. This is your first and only warning not to cheat in this class.

Make-up exams will be offered to students who inform me before test time of an excused absence. The questions on the make-up exam will not be harder but the exam will not offer optional questions. Make-up exams will be offered for only one week after the scheduled date of the exam. A student may take only one make-up exam over the span of the term. If you miss two exams, the second make-up will be given on the day of the final exam. You must complete both exams during the time allotted for the final exam.

Students who fail the first exam are encouraged to schedule a meeting with me within one week of the return of the exam to discuss their work and ways to improve their performance.

All assigned papers must be turned as a hard copy (printed on paper). No electronic submissions are accepted. All assigned papers will be lowered one letter grade for every calendar day that they are late. Even very late paper submissions will receive some credit. Failure to turn in any paper will result in a zero for that assignment.

Individual grades can be reviewed with the instructor, grader, or seminar leader as appropriate. Please wait at least 24 hours after receiving your graded work before meeting with the grader to discuss grader materials (you can come see me immediately, I’m fair game and the best bet to get your answer). All final grading decisions are made by me; the grading assistants are not responsible for any final grade decisions in HIST-1302.

Academic Advisement: Academic advisors are available to assist students with course selection, degree plans, and other academic matters. Each college has an academic advising center, staffed by full-time, professional advisors. Students who have yet to declare a major are advised by the Academic Advising Transition Center. For more information please call (361) 825-5931 or log on to http://www.tamucc.edu/~aac

Students with Disabilities and Veterans
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Corpus Christi Hall, Room 116.

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

Grade Appeal Process
Students who feel that they have not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in this class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details on the process of submitting a formal grade appeal, please visit the College of Liberal Arts website, cla.tamucc.edu/students/studentinfo.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Associate Dean.
