VII. Instructional methods and activities

A. Class Participation

1. Attendance/punctuality – Class attendance, punctuality and participation are reflections of a future teacher’s commitment to his/her preparation for teaching. On time arrivals (and departures of all class sessions throughout the semester is worth 50 points – full credit. Twenty-five points is deducted for each class absence (other than university-approved). Ten points are deducted for each late arrival or early departure.

2. Current event – This assignment provides a brief teaching opportunity that connects the course content to what is happening in today’s schools and society. Prof Ward will assign “teams” of three to avoid duplication of events. Each individual is allotted five to seven minutes to describe his/her event and lead a short related discussion. This assignment will be graded as indicated below; 25 points possible.

- 25 points - Well-informed description of event with accompanying handout
- Well-constructed questions/statements written on board
- Good use of allotted time (5-7 minutes)
- 20 points - Missing handouts OR written questions/statements on board
- Good use of allotted time
- 15 points - Missing handouts AND/OR written questions/statements on board
- Improvement need with use of allotted time
- 10 pts or less - Absence of both handouts and written questions/statements
- Poor use of allotted time

B. Reading and writing

1. Philosophy of education – The professional educator’s philosophy of teaching is constantly evolving. New information and experiences shape the open-minded, well-informed teacher’s beliefs and practices. Even future teachers hold strong beliefs about what constitutes good or bad teaching and what should or should not be taking place in our nation’s classrooms. Complete the Philosophy of Education Response Paper (see “Assessments”) and submit via the Discussion Forum by midnight, Saturday, January 23. Thirty points possible.

The second part of the philosophy of teaching assignment involves responding to your peers’ papers. The Philosophy of Education Response Paper Replies are written to four classmates assigned by Prof Ward. This assignment is due by noon TBD. Respond to any two items on your four assigned classmates’ papers (eight total responses). Forty (8 x 5) points possible.

2. Reading responses - Three Reading Responses will be assigned during the course to promote interaction among classmates and strengthen writing skills. Reading Response Guidelines are found in the “Assessments” section. Submit via the Discussion Forum by midnight on Saturdays, February 6, April 13 and April 27. Forty points each, 120 total points possible.

The Reading Response Reply to a classmate assigned by Prof Ward will be due noon on TBD

Ten points each, 30 total points possible.
C. Collaboration and observation

1. Top Twenty in American Education - This assignment involves a collaborative process that culminates with each individual student’s personal selection of his/her top twenty most influential persons and events that have influenced American education beginning with the early Greeks to present day. The three parts of this assignment are as follows:

   Part I – Develop tentative draft of personal Top Twenty in American Education
   Submit Top 20 draft to group members and Prof Ward (50 points possible)

   Part II – Formulate a collaborative Top 20 with assigned classmates (50 points possible)

   Part III – Finalize/revise personal Top Twenty in American Education (75 points possible)

   Assigned groups are found in the “Groups” section. Specific directions for this assignment are provided in the “Assessments” section. Each of the three parts to this assignment are due by noon TBD via the course website.

2. Classroom observations – Arrangements have been made for EDUC 3311.001 students to observe for one hour/period in three different teachers’ classrooms on the TAMU-CC partner school campuses of TBD. Observations must take place between the dates of TBD. Directions for arranging observations and observations forms to be completed will be provided by Prof Ward.

D. Exams

1. Syllabus quiz – The syllabus represents a detailed plan for the course. Understanding of the syllabus promotes student success and enjoyment. The syllabus quiz is worth up to 10 points.

2. Pre/post-test – The pre-test will be taken in class and has no impact on a student’s grade. It provides EDUC 3311 students an overview of the course content. The post-test will be a collaborative in-class activity on TBD and is worth 20 points.

3. Online Quizzes - Five online quizzes will be assigned during the course (see the “Online Quizzes” folder in “Assessments”). Quizzes due by noon on the TBD. Forty points each, 200 total points possible.

4. Mid-term and final exams - The mid-term exam is be a combination of objective and short essay items. It will be taken in class on TBD. Two pages of personally handwritten notes will be allowed; 100 points possible.

   The final exam (see the “Final Exam” folder in “Assessments”) will be an open-book, open-note short essay exam with a two-hour time limit (honor system). It will be submitted via the course website and is due by noon on TBD; 100 points possible.

   Use of the course text and notes are permitted while writing the final exam. However, any two or more exams that are identical (word for word) will each receive ZERO CREDIT.

* Assignments - Professionalism is expected in your written assignments. Adherence to directions/grading rubrics and proper acknowledgement of others’ works are essential. Points will be deducted for misspelled words, errors in mechanics, grammar errors, etc.

 Late work – Assignments submitted within one week of the due date will be accepted for a maximum of 75% credit; one week or more past the due date for a maximum of 50% credit, unless otherwise specified. Last day to submit late work is TBD.

 Extra credit - Students who have completed all assignments and requirements as of TBD and have no more than one class absences and/or two tardies/early departures may add up to 25 total points of earned extra credit by presenting a current event in class on TBD.
IX. Course Policies and Schedule

Advice from Prof Ward

- Read and study the syllabus prior to beginning the course. Review the syllabus periodically so that you are able to “stay one step ahead.” Create your own EDUC 3311.001 work schedule by merging the course assignments/due dates into your own personal calendar.

- Consider these questions . . . “Is teaching a profession?” . . . “Does our society expect its professionals to undergo rigorous training to be effective in difficult, challenging situations?” If so, then you should expect an element of rigor in your preparation for becoming a professional educator. “Work hard, have fun!"

XII. Grade Appeals
As stated in University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Rule 13.02.99.C2, Student Grade Appeals, and University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures. These documents are accessible through the University Rules Website at http://www.tamucc.edu/provost/universityrules/index.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Office of Student Affairs.

XIII. Disabilities Accommodations
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Driftwood 101. If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816. The student has the responsibility of informing the course instructor of any disabling condition that will require modifications to avoid discrimination. http://disabilityservices.tamucc.edu

XIV. Academic Honesty
University students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to a penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, forgery, or plagiarism. (Plagiarism is the presentation of the work of another as one's own work.)
