Course Title and Description
Leadership is a three credit course focusing on the process of influence that takes place through communication to achieve goals or to produce change from a collective of people. This course will include instruction on the various approaches to leadership, processes of leadership, and the role that leadership plays in a variety of contexts. This course is intended as an overview of contemporary theory and research in leadership.

Course Objectives
The course is designed to expose students to the art and science of persuasion through enriching discussions and reading of classic and contemporary texts. This course is in partial fulfillment of the following Communication and Media Department outcomes. Specifically, students should be able to perform the following by the conclusion of the Summer 1 2018 session:

- Define leadership.
- Describe the various approaches to leadership.
- Articulate how leadership functions in a variety of contexts.
- Become familiar with empirical research studies and scholars associated with the study of organizational communication.
- Develop and refine scholarly writing and research skills.

Required Texts

Required Additional Readings
- Reading material for selected topics from a variety of sources will be placed in the “Required Additional Readings” folder on Blackboard.

Attendance
Student attendance in class is essential to learning. Assignments are expected to be delivered on the day assigned. Exceptions will be made only in extreme circumstances at the discretion of the instructor. When absences are due to a University activity, it is the student’s responsibility to notify the instructor of these absences at least one (1) week in advance of the occurrence to allow adequate time for rescheduling. Definitions of excused and unexcused absences will reflect university guidelines. Only formally documented, “university excused” absences will be allowed.

*More than 1 unexcused absences will result in automatic failure of the course*
Grading Procedure
Grades will be based on the following scale:
100-90% - A  89-80% - B  79-70% - C  69-60% - D  Below 60% - E

Grading
Grades are comprised of classroom engagement activities, position papers, small group project journals, and a small group project. The total amount of points possible for the course is 375. There will be no opportunity to makeup in-class activities. Assignments submitted late will receive a 10-percent deduction for every day it is late.

Classroom Engagement Activities
During various class periods, students will complete classroom engagement activities that will be used for direct application and discussion of course topics, lecture material, and reading content. There will be ten classroom engagement activities in this course, each worth 5 points, for a total of 50 points.

Leadership Presentation
Leaders have been romanticized and/or vilified throughout history. Students will select one leader who has made a mark in history regardless of context, prepare a paper that discusses (a) what makes the person a great/poor leader, (b) how did person achieve leadership, (c) what results did the person achieve, and (d) what legacy will/does the person have? Students should utilize leadership theory and research discussed in class to inform their papers. Students will also facilitate discussion about their chosen leader in class. Further directions and rubric for the leadership paper and presentation will be distributed and discussed in class at the appropriate time. It is worth 100 points.

Popular Press Leadership Book Application Paper and Class Discussion
Popular press (books written for a wide array of audiences) about leadership number in the thousands, thus, they represent an opportunity to integrate academic insight and theory with applied prescriptions and advice about leadership. Students will select a popular press leadership book published between 1990 and 2018 to read, write a paper about, and facilitate a discussion of in class. Papers should address key teachings of the book and how they relate to leadership theory and research discussed in the course materials for the class. Discussions of the book in class should capture the attention of fellow students and provide them an opportunity to see the usefulness of connecting popular press literature with academic literature. Further directions and rubric for the popular press leadership application paper and class discussion will be distributed and discussed in class at the appropriate time. It is worth 100 points.

Academic Advising
The College of Liberal Arts requires that students meet with an Academic Advisor as soon as they are ready to declare a major. Degree plans are prepared in the CLA Academic Advising Center. The University uses an online Degree Audit system. Any amendment must be approved by the Department Chair and the Office of the Dean. All courses and requirements specified in the final degree plan audit must be completed before a degree will be granted. The CLA Academic Advising Office is located in Driftwood #203. For more information please call 361-825-3466.

Dropping a Class
I hope that you never find it necessary to drop this or any other class. However, events can sometimes occur that make dropping a course necessary or wise. Please consult with your academic advisor, the Financial Aid Office, and me, before you decide to drop this course. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the process to drop the course by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class. June 15 is the last day to drop a class with an automatic grade of “W” this term.

Disability Services
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Corpus Christi Hall, Room #116.

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

Grade Appeal Process
As stated in University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.03, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.03, Student Grade Appeals. These documents are accessible online at: http://academicaffairs.tamucc.edu/rules_procedures/assets/13.02.99.C0.03_student_grade_appeals.pdf. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Associate Dean’s office in the college in which the course is taught. For complete details on the process of submitting a formal grade appeal in CLA, please visit the College of Liberal Arts website, http://cla.tamucc.edu/about/student-resources.html.
