Catalog Course Description
Prospective teachers learn to create developmentally appropriate learning environments and tasks that enable student success in writing and the study of literature in Language Arts and English courses, as well as preparing students to meet the increased writing and reading expectations in all subject areas. Prepares prospective teachers to meet increased expectations for their own writing. Prerequisite: one Reading course.

Student Learning Outcomes
Students in English 3360 will:
• Apply contemporary theories of writing and literature pedagogy to design and evaluate classroom materials in accordance with the TEKS.
• Evaluate K-12 student writing using a variety of response and assessment methods.
• Write in multiple academic and personal genres to improve their own writing skills.

Texts and Materials
4. A notebook or a journal for your Writer’s Notebook (or you may choose to keep it electronically)
5. Storage medium to provide access to files in class (e.g. flash drive, Dropbox, Google docs, etc.)

Grade Distribution
Grades will be based on the following, divided into categories according to the level of evaluation placed on each writing tasks:
1. High-Stakes Writing (50%). Work graded solely on quality of product, demonstration of knowledge, professionalism. Expectations for quality and correctness are very high. Involves extensive revision from earlier work.

   - Genre project (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process; Writing/Persuasive Texts; all Research TEKS).
   - Responding to Student Writing (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process, Writing/Expository & Procedural texts)
   - Teacher Interview (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process)

2. Mid-stakes writing (25%). Work is graded to some extent on product quality, but expectations are not as high as in high-stakes writing, and process is more important than the finished product. Mid-stakes writings move beyond exploration and play—they are meant for an audience and it is assumed the writer has done some revising and editing.

   - Certain in-class assignments, including drafts of genre project pieces. (TEKS all levels: all writing/research TEKS)
   - Final reflective essay (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process; Writing/Persuasive Texts; all Research TEKS)

3. Low-Stakes Writing (25%). Work graded on process, completeness—the attempt. LSW offers students the opportunity to explore ideas, practice techniques, and develop writing skills in a safe, judgment-free context. In other words, as long as you complete the assignment, making a good-faith effort, you will get full credit. So take risks, have fun—don't worry about getting it “right.”

   Although the work in the low-stakes category does not have to be very polished, students are expected to produce a large quantity of writing—probably more than you've ever written for one class before.

   Developing good writing skills requires practice, and this course provides the focused practice that can make a difference in your writing. Some (although not all) of the low-stakes assignments will be written during class. Here are just a few examples of low-stakes writing assignments:

   - In-class quickwrites (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process)
   - Writer's Notebook (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process; Writing/Literary texts)
   - Conference requirement (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process)
   - Responses to readings and all in-class activities that are not designated in another category (TEKS all levels: Writing/Writing Process, Writing/Expository & Procedural texts)

Specific instructions for all assignments will be provided in Blackboard. Instructions for in-class/weekly assignments can be found on the “Weekly Modules” link. Instructions for semester long projects, or those that span more than one week (Writer’s Notebook, Genre Project, Teacher Interview, and Conferences), can be found under the “Major Assignments” link. Specific due dates are under “Schedule” for a semester-long overview or “Weekly Modules” for week-by-week assignments.
Submitting assignments:
Most writing assignments must be submitted through Blackboard, but a few in-class assignments may be handwritten & turned in directly to the instructor. Unless directed otherwise, please do not send coursework to the instructor via email.

Assignment submission links are in the relevant “Weekly Modules” folder. The Schedule includes an overview calendar of all due dates.

If you do not have a Blackboard account, please go to the Blackboard login page (http://bb9.tamucc.edu) and follow the instructions for “New User” in the box at the right. If you have problems with Blackboard while attempting to submit your assignments, contact the Island Online help desk (361-825-2692)—not your instructor.

Before uploading your assignment to Blackboard, make sure it is saved as an MS Word document, or if appropriate, a PDF. Please talk to the instructor before submitting in another format. All students now have access to Office 365, Microsoft’s online version of the Office software suite, at no charge. See this link for more information: http://it.tamucc.edu/Office365/Office365.html.

Course Policies
Attendance
You have four “sick leave” days, meaning a maximum of four absences without penalty. No documentation or explanation is needed—or wanted. It’s not my place to judge the validity of your reasons—that decision is yours. Just know that: 1) there are consequences to missing class because of missed content, participation credit, and in-class work; and 2) that if you use up your sick leave, your final grade may be lowered by half a letter grade for each day over four missed. There is no such thing as "excused" or "unexcused" absences; these policies will apply no matter what the reason.

Here are the details:
• You may take a maximum of four (4) absences, no questions asked and no penalty other than missed in-class work and participation credit. You may not make up missed in-class work.
• Extra credit may be available to help you make up for the occasional missed assignment. However, it will only apply to low-stakes writing category. Extra credit won't happen often--don't rely on it to make up for a significant amount of missed work.
• To be considered present, you must be on time, participate in all class activities, and remain in class for the entire period. Leaving early, coming in significantly late, or refusing to participate in in-class work will result in an absence and zero credit for any in-class work that day.
• Please keep the contact information for another student to find out what you missed rather than contacting the instructor. You will also find helpful information on Blackboard if you miss a class.

Late Work
• You may turn in most mid & high-stakes assignments up to one week past the due date, unless otherwise noted on the Blackboard assignment. However, your grade may be subject to a late grade penalty. Generally, if the assignment is still available on Blackboard, you may turn it in for partial credit.
• Low-stake writing is usually part of in-class work, and may not be turned in late, unless noted on the assignment in Blackboard. As with mid & high-stake assignments, if it is still available on Blackboard, you may turn it in.
• No work will be accepted later than one week after the due date.

In-class Conduct
In general, treat each other and the instructor with respect and follow simple standards of common courtesy. Here are a few specifics:
• Smartphones are incredibly useful learning tools, so it is fine to have them in class. In fact, we will occasionally use them for class purposes. However, please do not abuse this generous policy. Do not text, play games, do social media, shop, or constantly check the phone—use them only for class purposes and pay attention. If there is no class-related reason to have your phone out, please put it away.
• Likewise, computers are to be used for English 3360 work only. No shopping, no Facebook, etc.
• Do not use your time or the computers in English 3360 to work on assignments for other classes.
• Do not talk or make excessive noise while the instructor or another student is speaking to the class. (This includes typing on the keyboard, clicking the mouse, or tapping on a screen.)
• When group work is assigned in class, you must work in a group, not as an individual.
• During group work time, please stay on task and work cooperatively with other group members.

About the TExES Exam
Do not rush into the professional development segment of your career by attempting to take your TExES certification exams too soon. The College of Education can give you advice on when to take your professional development exams and will be your main source of information about the TExES if you are working toward EC-4 or EC-6 certification. For those of you who will be taking the English Language Arts & Reading (ELAR) 4-8, 8-12, or 7-12, please do the following:
• Finish at least 80% of the coursework in the major before attempting the ELAR TExES exam.
• Make an appointment to see the English department TExES coordinator if you have not done so. Contact Dr. Susan Garza (FC 267, x2483). She controls registration for the exam and the mandatory review sessions.
• Review the study guide carefully. Click here to obtain TExES Study Guides.
• Attend at least one TExES review session, preferably two. Try to attend one about a year before you plan to take the exam, then again right before your exam. Dr. Garza will provide information about review sessions.

Reminder to English Majors
As part of the English undergraduate capstone course (ENGL 4351), all English majors are required to submit a portfolio of writings in different discourse genres that they have completed for their college classes. To help you prepare for this assignment, you should keep a copy of all essays, research papers, literary analyses, creative and report writing, etc., so that you will have an ample selection from which to choose when the portfolio comes due.

Notice to Student with Disabilities
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Corpus Christi Hall, Room #116.
If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

Academic Advising
The College of Liberal Arts requires that students meet with an Academic Advisor as soon as they are ready to declare a major. Degree plans are prepared in the CLA Academic Advising Center. The University uses an online Degree Audit system. Any amendment must be approved by the Department Chair and the Office of the Dean. All courses and requirements specified in the final degree plan audit must be completed before a degree will be granted. The CLA Academic Advising Office is located in Driftwood #203. For more information please call 361-825-3466.

If your major is in another college (i.e., Education), please go to http://www.tamucc.edu/academics/advising.php for information about how to contact your advisor.

Academic Honesty/Plagiarism
The University will not tolerate plagiarism or any other form of intellectual/academic dishonesty. Plagiarism is a serious violation of departmental and University policies, but it is sometimes difficult to understand what plagiarism actually is. Often, students commit unintentional plagiarism (not citing sources properly, for example), because they are unaware of the standards that apply. Regardless, work that is turned in for the course that is plagiarized will be failed. If you are unsure about your use of sources, please consult with me or visit the writing center (in the TLC, in the Glasscock building) for advice on source documentation BEFORE the item is due. For this course, you must use either MLA or APA citation style. Any grammar handbook and many web sites have directions on correct citation.

Classroom/Professional Behavior
Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, as an academic community, requires that each individual respect the needs of others to study and learn in a peaceful atmosphere. Under Article III of the Student Code of Conduct, classroom behavior that interferes with either (a) the instructor’s ability to conduct the class or (b) the ability of other students to profit from the instructional program may be considered a breach of the peace and is subject to disciplinary sanction outlined in article VII of the Student Code of Conduct. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior may be instructed to leave the classroom. This prohibition applies to all instructional forums, including classrooms, electronic classrooms, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc.

Dropping a Class
I hope that you never find it necessary to drop this or any other class. However, events can sometimes occur that make dropping a course necessary or wise. Please consult with me before you decide to drop to be sure it is the best thing to do. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the process to drop the course by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class. November 15 is the last day to drop a class with an automatic grade of “W” this term.

Grade Appeal Process
As stated in University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures (available at http://academicaffairs.tamucc.edu/rules_procedures/assets/13.02.99.C2.01_student_grade_appeal_procedure.pdf). For complete details on the process of submitting a formal grade appeal, please visit the College of Liberal Arts website, http://cla.tamucc.edu/about/student-resources.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Associate Dean’s Office.

Statement of Academic Continuity

In the event of an unforeseen adverse event, such as a major hurricane and classes could not be held on the campus of Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi; this course would continue through the use of Blackboard and/or email. In addition, the syllabus and class activities may be modified to allow continuation of the course. Ideally, University facilities (i.e., emails, web sites, and Blackboard) will be operational within two days of the closing of the physical campus. However, students need to make certain that the course instructor has a primary and a secondary means of contacting each student.

Questions?
If you have any questions or concerns regarding this syllabus, please speak with me as soon as possible. You are responsible for understanding and adhering to the policies of this course and the University.

Reading & Assignment Schedule

A semester long calendar of all reading and writing assignments is available on Blackboard. See also the Weekly Modules for specific instructions for each week.

Reading & Assignment Schedule

How to Read this Schedule

This is an overview summing up the weekly modules. All assignment instructions and submission links will be available on Blackboard within module folders. This schedule is subject to change.

Each week, you are asked to complete readings, write responses to those readings, write in your notebook, and complete an in-class (mostly) assignment based on the concepts for the week. Thus each week includes the following parts:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Week number</th>
<th>Concepts: What are the main ideas you are going to learn and practice during the week?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Readings:</td>
<td>Each reading requires a brief written response to be posted on Blackboard. You must complete the readings and the response by class time on Tuesday of each week. Specific instructions for weekly responses are on Blackboard.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notebook:</td>
<td>This will be the same most weeks—simply a reminder to complete your notebook entries. Bring your notebook to class every day. They are subject to checks at any time and we will use them in class frequently.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
Assignment: This is the in-class assignment you must complete each week. You'll have a good portion of Thursday's class period to work on it, but if you don't get it finished, you'll have some time before the deadline to finish up. They will always be due Friday at midnight, unless otherwise specified. Please note that most of these assignments will not make sense if you do not attend class, as most of them will be modeled and practiced in class.

Notes: This portion will include reminders for the future, suggestions for notebook writing, and pretty much anything that seems relevant and important for the week. Notes will be added throughout the semester and also sent through email if necessary.

Week 1

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Aug 29 &amp; 31</th>
<th>Concepts: Navigating Course Materials, Writer’s Notebook, Low, Mid, &amp; High Stakes Writing; Best Practices</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Readings: | 1. Syllabus, Modules, Assignment on Blackboard
2. Mechanically Inclined, chapter 3 (p. 27-50) and Ray (p. 70) [These are readings about your notebook. Don’t use them for your response this week; it’s just meant for your review and to have as resources later.]
Use these two for your response instead (both are on BB):
3. “Best Practices (Quick)”
4. “High Stakes and Low Stakes in Assigning and Responding to Writing” (Elbow)
Write response before class time on Thursday (Note: due on Thursday this week only. Usually your response is due on Tuesdays. See instructions on BB) |
| Notebook: | Write three entries, find/record two words and one model sentence (gem) |
| Assignment: | Set up notebook—bring to class every day.
Experiment with writing in response to multiple “try-its,” (at least three, preferably more), making sure you choose different genres. Turn in one example and a reflection about your writing on the try-its. |
| Notes: | 1. The “try-its” are good fodder for notebook entries if you can’t think of anything to write. You may use the three you tried this week as part of your notebook.
2. Start thinking about a teacher you want to interview. Send that person an email requesting the interview and set up a time sometime during Sept. Let Dr. Quick know by Sept. 8 if you need help finding someone. |

Week 2

| Readings: | The Writing Workshop, ch. 14 (p. 155-171)
Hidden Gems, ch. 6 & 7, (p. 90-125) | Write response before class time on Tuesday (see instructions on BB) |
| Notebook: | Write three entries, find/record two words and one model sentence (gem) |
| Assignment: | Write a letter to each of your Sanders Elementary students responding to their writing. Use the chart from Hidden Gems as a prewriting tool. Turn in letters and completed charts. For this first letter, the emphasis should be exclusively on the top two boxes of the HG chart. |
| Notes: | 1. Name and school information for teacher interviewee are due this week.
2. If you have not already done so, visit the Google site under Conference Schedule to sign up for your September conference with Dr. Quick. |

Notebook: Write three entries, find/record two words and one model sentence (gem)

Assignment: Exchange a piece from your notebook (your choice) with another class member. Write responses to each other’s work, using Bomer as a guide. Then write a reflective piece discussing your thinking about this approach to response. Turn in the entry, your peer’s response to your writing, and your reflection.

Notes: 1. Let Dr. Quick know if you need a teacher to interview. You’ll be asked next week to turn in names and school info for your interviewee.
Week 5

Sept 26 & 28

Concepts: Genre, Unit of Study

Readings: The Writing Workshop, ch. 12 (p. 129-40) and ch. 16 (187-209)
Excerpt from Writing Outside Your Comfort Zone (PDF on BB)

Write response before class time on Tuesday (see instructions on BB)

Notebook: Write three entries, find/record two words and one model sentence (gem)

Assignment: Bring three of your gem sentences to class on Thursday. Turn in one sequence with mentor sentence, analysis, and at least two attempts to write your own version.

Notes:
1. Is your conference this week? Check your calendar! And don’t forget to complete the questionnaire before coming to your conference (see Conference Requirements.)

---

Week 6

Oct 3 & 5

Midterm on Thursday!!

Concepts: Assessment, Standards, STAAR, TEKS

Readings: Watch video showing how to access & read TEKS and the Released STAAR tests. [coming soon]
Review the ELA TEKS for your preferred grade level:
Take Released STAAR Writing Test:

Write response before class time on Tuesday (see instructions on BB)
Notebook:
Write three entries, find/record two words and one model sentence (gem)

Assignment:
You must have completed your teacher interview by TUESDAY of this week. Bring all notes to class on Thursday—midterm exam is due at the end of class.

Notes:
1. This is midterm week! You must have your teacher interview completed to take the midterm. If not, you will not be allowed to take the midterm and you will not receive credit for it. No make-ups allowed.

| Readings: | The Writing Workshop, ch 17 (p.211-230)
Hidden Gems, ch. 4 (p. 53-74)
Write response before class time on Tuesday (see instructions on BB) |

Notebook:
Write three entries, find/record two words and one model sentence (gem)

Assignment:
Student writings! Write responses to your student(s) that do the following:
1) names 2 “gems.”
2) identifies two writing areas in need of improvement.*
3) suggests specific strategies to improve each of those areas.
*Focus on major writing areas, less on grammar.
