POLS 2305.W01 – U.S. Government and Politics
(FULLY ONLINE: FIRST 7.5-WEEK SESSION)
Spring 2018 Syllabus, Version 1.0
Instructor: Dr. Jennifer L. Epley
Office Location: Bay Hall 341
Office Telephone: (361) 825-2554

Office Hours:
• Via Skype, by telephone, or in person on campus: Tuesdays from 11:00am-12:15pm, Wednesdays from 11:00am-1:30pm, and Thursdays from 11:00am-12:15pm
• By appointment (in case of class or employment conflicts only)

Email Policy:
• Instructor’s email address: jennifer.epley@tamucc.edu
• Please consider e-mail as official correspondence.
• Please address emails to “Dr. Epley.”
• Efforts will be made to address your e-mail within 48 hours, but between the regular business hours of 9am-5pm. If you do not receive an email within 48 hours, please send a follow-up email inquiry.
• No email correspondence on weekends.
• No email correspondence on the day before or day of an assessment deadline.
• E-mail communications should be about class business. E-mail is not the place for summaries of course content material, however.
• Please use the subject line in a way that indicates the content of the message. Please also use professional language and include your full name, section number, and a complete inquiry in the body of the message. Unprofessional emails will result in non-response.
• Please keep copies of e-mails that are sent and received for records purposes.
• Remember that Blackboard sends emails to students’ Islander accounts. Check that account regularly. Students are responsible for forwarding their Islander email to their preferred address if they do not use their Islander email. Course email announcements are archived in Blackboard for your reference as well.

Required Course Website:
• Blackboard online (https://iol.tamucc.edu/) → Free access for university students

Course Section Details for Registered Students:
• POLS 2305.W01 – U.S. GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS (online only)
• CRN 53596: This class does not meet physically face-to-face in a classroom.
• Duration: 7.5-week session: 01/16/2018 to 03/09/2018

Required Book:
The Secrets of Carter House (2013) [collegiate academic bundle version]. The Secrets of Carter House is a historical fiction novel that follows an ensemble of Galveston/Houston-area teachers and learners as the 2008 onset of Hurricane Ike begins to renegotiate the boundaries between their in-school and out-of-school lives. This Southern tale explores how government structures, public policies, and political culture shape the choices that people make when disaster strikes. The Secrets of Carter House was written by Dr. Kenyatha V. “Ellie Mae” Loftis.

The Secrets of Carter House is available electronically and may be purchased online at http://secretsofcarterhouse.com/. Alternatively, you can purchase a digital copy on a flashdrive from the campus bookstore.

 Each item in the collegiate academic bundle version package can be downloaded only once. PDF versions can be printed and are ADA accessible. If accommodations are needed, please contact Dr. Epley and/or the publisher L.SMURPHE.F Productions via email at PRODUCTIONS@LSMURPHEF.COM as soon as possible.

Additional readings, websites, and multimedia will be required. The instructor will provide the free copies and links to students in Blackboard and/or via email.

Course Description and Outcomes:
Political Science 2305 (online version) is an introductory course about political science in general and American politics in specific. Together in this course we will develop your ability to analyze various political processes and institutions. We will go beyond the basic facts of history and civics—what political institutions exist, how did they arise, who are the key political figures, etc.—to address basic questions of political science such as: What is the function of government and when does it fulfill or abdicate this function? How do political actors such as politicians and parties attain power? What is the role of institutional rules and procedures? What do citizens think about and do with regard to politics? Such questions and the answers we will find are applicable to us as citizens, residents, and visitors in the United States. These issues are also relevant elsewhere in the world. Through a process of collaboration, cooperation, and discovery, we will develop our knowledge base and skills. Substantive knowledge, critical thinking and analysis, developing and defending arguments, and the clear and concise articulation of ideas and evidence will be important components of the discussions, writings, and evaluations in this course.

Topics covered include, but are not limited to: federalism, the U.S. Constitution, the three branches of government, the bureaucracy, the legal system, public opinion, political behavior, the mass media and politics, political parties, campaigns and elections, interest groups, and how the government and society deal with issues such as personal liberty, rights, the economy, and different domestic and foreign public policies.

Student Learning Outcomes for POLS 2305 per the Department of Social Sciences:
The four University Core Curriculum Program outcomes related to this course are: Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills, Personal Responsibility, and Social Responsibility.

By the end of the semester the course will have met these outcomes…

- By having the students engage in critical thinking activities related to the Constitution, the political and philosophical foundations of the nation, governmental institutions, and political behavior.

• By having students engage in written, verbal or visual activities related to the Constitution, the political and philosophical foundations of the nation, governmental institutions, and political behavior.

• By having students engage in course related activities that connect personal responsibility and political ideology to encourage ethical decision making.

• By having students engage in course related activities that connect social responsibility to civil rights, civil liberties, and to voting and voting behavior.

Spring 2018 Semester Theme

“When Disaster Strikes” – We will cover the aforementioned topics through the lenses of disaster preparedness, emergency response, and recovery or change. We will analyze the social, historical, and political contexts of disaster at the individual, community, state, and national levels. We will do so by taking a learner-centered approach that emphasizes:

a. Background Knowledge – Combine theory with empirical data (qualitative and quantitative)

b. Applied Learning – Problem-based and project-based individual and group assessments

Performance Evaluation and Grading (weighted formula, not a points system):

Your final course grade will consist of…

1% Introductory Requirements (individual assessment) – Syllabus contract and CITI Plagiarism Training Report (5/5 or 100% required score) before scheduled deadline.

40% Online Content Assessments (individual assessment) – There will be four online content assessments during the semester. See the attached schedule for assignment deadlines.

24% Online Chapter Quizzes (individual assessment) – There will be four online quizzes related to the assigned book. See the attached schedule for assignment deadlines.

30% Case Study/Application Responses (CSAR) (group assessment) – There will be two CSARs to be submitted online via Blackboard as wiki-documents by small assigned groups during the semester (see schedule for details). Students are expected to thoughtfully engage in active, professional collaborations on the CSAR wiki-documents.

The group assessments follow the university’s recommended “High Impact Practice” of “collaborative learning."

“Collaborative Assignments and Projects: Collaborative learning combines two key goals: learning to work and solve problems in the company of others, and sharpening one’s own understanding by listening seriously to the insights of others, especially those with different backgrounds and life experiences. Approaches range from study groups within a course, to team-based assignments and writing, to cooperative projects and research.” (https://www.aacu.org/leap/hips)

5% Critical Thinking and Civic Engagement/Social Responsibility Essay (individual assessment) – Individual students will produce a 1-2 pages single-spaced essay using a formal prompt and set of guidelines from the instructor. This assessment is part of the Core Curriculum assessment evaluation cycle from the Office of the Provost and the College of Liberal Arts.

Make-Up Policy and Late Policy:
No make-up or late work is accepted.

Grading Scale:
A = 90 – 100        B = 80 – 89        C = 70 – 79        D = 60 – 69        F = 59 and below

Additional Notes:
No extra credit options are available for this course. No exceptions. Please do not request extra credit from the instructor at any point in time, especially at the end of the semester.

Grade Appeal Process:
All Assessments – Students have five days from the date that a score is posted in Blackboard for each individual component to make a typed grade appeal to the instructor.

 Special Note: It is the student’s responsibility to trouble-shoot and resolve any technical/technology problems in their online accounts before the syllabus deadlines and before the end of the 7.5-week semester session. ***

Final Grade – Grade Appeals Process: As stated in University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.03, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal.

A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.03, Student Grade Appeals. These documents are accessible online at: http://academicaffairs.tamucc.edu/rules_procedures/assets/13.02.99.C0.03_student_grade_appeals.pdf.

For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Associate Dean’s office in the college in which the course is taught. For complete details on the process of submitting a formal grade appeal in CLA, please visit the College of Liberal Arts website, http://cla.tamucc.edu/about/student-resources.html.
Dropping a Class:
I hope that you never find it necessary to drop this or any other class. However, events can sometimes occur that make dropping a course necessary or wise. Please consult with your academic advisor, the Financial Aid Office, and me, before you decide to drop this course. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the process to drop the course by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class. Please see the academic calendar from the Registrar’s Office for the last day to drop a class with an automatic grade of “W” this term.

Academic Honor Code:
Students are expected to uphold the Academic Honor Code published in the University Student Handbook. The Academic Honor Code is based on the premise that each student has the responsibility (1) to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity in the student’s own work, (2) to refuse to tolerate violations of academic integrity in the university community, and (3) to foster a high sense of integrity and social responsibility on the part of the university community. Violations of the Academic Honor Code will not be tolerated.

Academic Dishonesty, Cheating, and Plagiarism:
Academic dishonesty, cheating, and plagiarism of any kind are unacceptable. There are no exceptions. Consequences for academic dishonesty, cheating, and plagiarism include, but are not limited to, a failing grade for an assignment, a failing grade for the course, noncredit for an assignment, additional work, and/or direct referral to university officials.

Please note that the university requires that faculty members formally report all instances of academic misconduct. Here is the form:
http://studentaffairs.tamucc.edu/assets/Academic%20Misconduct%20Incident%20Form%208-17-11-1.pdf and here are the procedures:
http://studentaffairs.tamucc.edu/assets/procedure_academicmisconductcases.pdf

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the use of unauthorized information during a quiz or exam, plagiarism, submitting the same paper for multiple courses without permission, or depriving another student of the ability to perform his or her work. The term cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; (2) dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments, plagiarism; or (3) the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a member of the university faculty or staff. The term plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, the use by paraphrase or direct quotation, of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment. Plagiarism also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling or distribution of term papers or other academic materials. If you have questions about the university’s policy on academic dishonesty, please see the Student Code of Conduct at http://judicialaffairs.tamucc.edu/StudentCofC.html.
Online Classroom Policies:

- Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, as an academic community, requires that each individual respect the needs of others to study and learn in a peaceful atmosphere. Under Article III of the Student Code of Conduct, classroom behavior that interferes with either (a) the instructor’s ability to conduct the class or (b) the ability of other students to profit from the instructional program may be considered a breach of the peace and is subject to disciplinary sanction outlined in article VII of the Student Code of Conduct. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior online or in person may be instructed to leave the virtual classroom, office, meeting space, etc.

- The instructor will assume that you have made an earnest effort to understand the material. This will allow you to be prepared to engage the material in more detail or address misunderstandings during any online sessions and in person.

- To foster an intellectually supportive environment, students should adhere to the dialogue guidelines (see extra handout).

Disabilities Accommodations:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Corpus Christi Hall 116. If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

Veterans:

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816. Veterans can find more information online at http://vets.tamucc.edu/. Please also communicate with your instructor for assistance.

Student Caregivers:

If you have caregiving responsibilities (e.g., parent of a child or care for elderly parents) and you anticipate scheduling difficulties, please discuss this at the beginning of the semester with the instructor to work out an appropriate strategy.

Part-time or Full-time Employed Students:

If you anticipate scheduling conflicts or workload difficulties, please discuss your questions, concerns, and potential solutions with the instructor at the beginning of the semester and keep in touch during the semester.

Academic Advising:

The College of Liberal Arts requires that students meet with an Academic Advisor as soon as they are ready to declare a major. Degree plans are prepared in the CLA Academic Advising Center. The University uses an online Degree Audit system. Any amendment must be approved by the Department Chair and the Office of the Dean. All courses and requirements specified in the final degree plan audit must be completed before a degree will be granted. The CLA Academic Advising Office is located in Driftwood #203. For more information please call (361) 825-3466.

S.A.I.L. System:
S.A.I.L. is a secure online student portal where you can access your student, academic, and financial aid records at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. Students can find information related to registration, class schedules, course catalogs, tuition and fees, grades, etc. at http://sail.tamucc.edu/.

Statement of Academic Continuity:
In the event of an unforeseen adverse event, such as a major hurricane and classes could not be held on the campus of Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi; this course would continue through the use of Blackboard and/or email. In addition, the syllabus and class activities may be modified to allow continuation of the course. Ideally, University facilities (i.e., emails, websites, and Blackboard) will be operational within two days of the closing of the physical campus. However, students need to make certain that the course instructor has a primary and a secondary means of contacting each student.

Academic Calendar:
- http://www.tamucc.edu/academics/academic_cal.html
- For the latest information on dates and deadlines, please inquire at the appropriate university office (e.g., Academic Affairs Office, Office of the Registrar, Dean’s Office of your major, main department of your major, etc.), with your academic advisor, and your professors.

GUIDELINES FOR DIALOGUE (face-to-face and online)

1. Confidentiality. We want to create an atmosphere for open, honest exchange.
2. Our primary commitment is to learn from each other. We will listen to each other and not talk at each other. We acknowledge differences amongst us in backgrounds, skills, interests, and values. We realize that it is these very differences that will increase our awareness and understanding through this process.
3. We will not demean, devalue, or “put down” people for their experiences, lack of experiences, or difference in interpretation of those experiences.
4. We will trust that people are always doing the best they can.
5. Challenge the idea and not the person. If we wish to challenge something that has been said, we will challenge the idea or the practice referred to, not the individual sharing this idea or practice.
6. Speak your discomfort. If something is bothering you, please share this with the group. Often our emotional reactions to this process offer the most valuable learning opportunities.
7. Step Up, Step Back. Be mindful of taking up much more space than others. On the same note, empower yourself to speak up when others are dominating the conversation.
8. Maintain a safe atmosphere.

CITI PLAGIARISM TRAINING AND QUIZ: INSTRUCTIONS

To access the CITI Plagiarism Training module and quiz, first register at the CITI website:
https://about.citiprogram.org/en/homepage/

You will need to complete a Learner Registration Profile.

Later locate where you can “Add a Course.” At the next screen, go to Question #1 - Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR).

Click on “Students” (which is the Plagiarism module). Scroll to the bottom of the screen and click “Submit.”

Agree to the “Integrity Assurance Statement,” and then click “Submit.”

From there, you can get to the course required modules and complete them.

Contact CITI directly if you encounter technical difficulties or their online steps have changed. Do not contact Blackboard as it is a separate entity.

Once you review the materials and earn a 100% on the quiz, save a copy of the formal, official transcript, which is also known as the completion report. Our Blackboard course website has a visual example in case you want to see in advance what the document should look like or to compare what you have saved on your computer.

Submit the single-sheet CITI transcript as a PDF only in Blackboard via the assignment link.

 If you already did this for a previous class and the report has not yet expired within the year (meaning it is valid during this semester), then you may submit that other document.

 Do not submit screenshots of your quiz questions and answers.

 Do not pay for anything. The plagiarism training is supposed to be free for students.

 Do not take any other modules unless your professor requests you to do so.

Estimated Completion Time: Less than 30 minutes
PDFs: What’s the big deal?

PDFs are ADA-compliant, so please do not submit documents in a different format in Blackboard unless otherwise requested. “ADA” refers to the “Americans with Disabilities Act” (1990). As a state and federally-funded institution, our university must comply with Section 508, Section 504, and the ADA. Appropriate use of technology is part of this process. Individual faculty members and departments that are not in compliance can face negative consequences, including risking their accreditation standing. It is also the right thing to do if you value equal opportunity and fair accessibility. ADA compliance means that we make every effort to make education accessible to those with disabilities. Keep in mind, too, that your faculty, administrators, and staff themselves may also need this process to do their jobs (e.g., reading or assessing documents in Blackboard).

Saving your Microsoft Word document as a PDF file:

1. Open the Word document you wish to save as a PDF.
2. Choose “File,” then select “Export,” and click the “Create PDF/XPS” button.
3. In the “Publish as PDF or XPS” window, confirm that you are saving your document as a PDF by checking the section labeled “Save as type.” PDF should be listed next to this area. If you see something other than PDF, use the drop-down menu to find the PDF option.
4. Navigate to the folder where you want to save the file. Modify the file name if you want a different name.
5. Click Publish when you are finished.

* Some computers will instead have you save a document as a PDF by “printing” it. Check your print(ern) settings for more details.

Attaching a file to an assignment submission in Blackboard:

1. Find the Blackboard assignment in the usual area where your assignments are listed. Click the name of the assignment and you will be taken to an “Upload Assignment” page.
2. On the Upload Assignment page, you can review the instructions and download any files provided by your instructor.
3. To upload the assignment, click “Browse My Computer,” and select a file to attach from your computer. If you selected the wrong file, remove it by clicking “Do not attach.”
4. Click the green “Submit” button when you are finished.
ASSESSMENT – COLLABORATIVE GROUP WIKI-ESSAYS (30% of overall course grade, i.e., each group essay is worth 15% of your overall course grade)

There will be two (2) Case Study/Application Response assignments. The acronym “CSAR” will be used to refer to these group homework tasks. Blackboard randomly assigned group members in the system. Go to the course website and click on “Groups” to locate your CSAR members.

Each assigned group must use ONE collaborative wiki-document per CSAR assignment in our Blackboard course website. A wiki-document is similar to Google Docs, but it is formatted and saved in Blackboard. There will only be two documents in Blackboard created; do not create more than two because it will be confusing and prone to errors. Copy and paste each prompt into the group document. All questions must be answered collaboratively, i.e., answered together as a team. Blackboard tracks each and every contribution in the one wiki-document under the “history log” for each student account to facilitate the instructor’s grading process. Student groups can also check their history log to see who did what at different times. If a student does not work within the same document and too little or no contributions are recorded, the resulting score will be a “0” for that student. Do not email all of the group’s answers to one person and that one person uploads the document. Rather, have all group members working on one “living” document in Blackboard saving different versions as you go along. Avoid having the document edited by multiple people at the same time, though, as Blackboard has a glitch that will not allow too many people editing and saving in the exact same time slot.

Help your fellow group members with content, grammar and spelling, punctuation, clarity, and accuracy. The answers should “flow,” i.e., avoid a choppy hodgepodge of separate individual contributions. In cases where an individual response is requested, use the name of the student in the sentence, i.e., use a third-person writing style where you refer to the person by name.

Apply material from the textbook and resource materials. In other words, connect what you are learning to each new assignment. Give plenty of concrete examples. Cite sources as needed. You are welcome to use APA, MLA, Chicago, or some other citation style, but be consistent with whatever approach your group selects.

Blackboard information about using a wiki:
https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Interact/Wikis

REFER TO THE COURSE SYLLABUS FOR EACH DEADLINE.
NO LATE WORK IS ACCEPTED.

(The most revised version saved/submitted before the deadline will be the one that is graded. For example, if your group edited and saved the document ten times, but the tenth time was after the deadline, Version 9 will be the one that is reviewed and then scored.)
Case Study/Application Response (CSAR) #1

Topic: Federalism – Pros and Cons

“The Storm,” an hour-long FRONTLINE investigation, examines how and why government at every level -- local, state and federal -- was unprepared, uncoordinated and overwhelmed in dealing with the Hurricane Katrina disaster.

- Watch the full program (i.e., all chapters) online at http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/frontline/storm/view/#morelink, and then answer the CSAR prompt in one formal collaborative essay that is written together.
- Type your responses using complete sentences along with proper grammar and punctuation.
- A Works Cited should be placed at the end of the essay.
- Incorporate the video, political science material from the textbook/novel: “The Secrets of Carter House,” previous online assigned readings from Blackboard, resource materials from Blackboard, and your group’s own research at the library and/or online.
  - The essay must use direct examples from both the assigned documentary and The Secrets of Carter House. You may also provide additional examples from Hurricane Harvey and other hurricanes from that time period. Remember, however, that a formal political science essay is not just a hodgepodge of personal opinions. Instead, be clear and write like a “scientist” about the who, what, where, when, how, and why for your analysis and policy recommendations.

Critical Thinking Question/Prompt for Collaborative Group Wiki-Essay

The federal government may have the same or different preferences/interests than a state government or a local government. There are pros and cons when the multiple levels of government agree or disagree on what are considered “priorities” for disaster preparedness and response.

In the context of evacuation policies, procedures, and resources, what are the possible conflicts that can occur from a federalist system? And what does your group suggest as solutions?
Case Study/Application Response (CSAR) #2

Topic: Racism, Prejudice, Discrimination, and the Power of Privilege

- Watch “A Class Divided” (documentary is ~53 minutes long) at the following link: http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/frontline/shows/divided/etc/view.html
- In groups, create one collaborative formal essay (introduction with thesis statement, body, and conclusion) that is written and edited together with all assigned group members that answers all parts of the CSAR prompt. Type your wiki-essays using complete sentences along with proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation.
- A Works Cited should be placed at the end of the essay. APA, MLA, Chicago, etc. is fine, but pick one method and be consistent in the essay and Works Cited.
- Incorporate direct information and examples from the documentary video, material from the textbook/novel: “The Secrets of Carter House,” previous online assigned readings from Blackboard, resource materials from Blackboard, and your group’s own research at the library and/or online.
- Remember that a formal political science essay is not just a hodgepodge of personal opinions. Instead, be clear and write like a “scientist” about the who, what, where, when, how, and why for your analysis.

Critical Thinking Questions/Prompt for Collaborative Group Wiki-Essay

First define “political socialization” and then explain its roles for racial stereotypes in the United States.

What are the consequences of such political socialization at the individual level, local level, state level, and national level?

How has the judiciary/judicial branch been involved with your aforementioned points? What are the pros and cons?
ASSESSMENT – INDIVIDUAL FINAL ESSAY (5% of overall course grade)

CRITICAL THINKING AND CIVIC ENGAGEMENT/SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY ESSAY

Must submit online in Blackboard via the assignment link before the deadline as a PDF

Instructions: Using a formal essay format (includes an introduction, body, and conclusion; uses a formal, professional tone), answer the assigned prompt below. Cite all sources. The list of references or Works Cited should be placed on the second page.

Format: 1 page only for the essay, single-spaced only, Times New Roman font, font size 12, and 1-inch margins all around. The heading should include your name, student number, class and section, date, and “Final Essay” as the title. APA, MLA, Chicago, Turabian, or APSA citation methods are permitted, but pick one approach and be consistent. Only a PDF will be accepted in Blackboard via the assignment link. No other format versions will be reviewed. No exceptions. No emailed essays or hard copies at office will be accepted.

Deadline: Refer to the syllabus schedule for the specific deadline. Per the syllabus, remember that no late submissions or make-up work are permitted.

Recommended: Visit, call, or email the CASA Writing Center and the Supplemental Instructor.

PROMPT FOR INDIVIDUAL ESSAY

Definition
Civic engagement is "working to make a difference in the civic life of our communities and developing the combination of knowledge, skills, values and motivation to make that difference. It means promoting the quality of life in a community, through both political and non-political processes." (Excerpted from Civic Responsibility and Higher Education, edited by Thomas Ehrlich, published by Oryx Press, 2000, Preface, page vi.) In addition, civic engagement encompasses actions wherein individuals participate in activities of personal and public concern that are both individually life enriching and socially beneficial to the community.

Based on the reading materials, course themes, and lessons from your POLS 2305 class this semester and the abovementioned definition, what does “civic engagement” specifically mean to you? What connections have you made between the class and your own political perspectives and behaviors (now and/or in the future)?

- Include concrete examples from any of the assigned class readings and assessments.
- Outside research is allowed.
- Writing in first-person (i.e., using “I” statements) is permitted.
- Picking one major theme for the essay is preferred rather than tackling lots of different ideas.
