· Understand and use a variety of vocabulary in common usage in different situations at an intermediate level.
· Understand and respond to oral and written material at an intermediate level.

Course requirements:
-Attendance:
Attendance is mandatory. If you are absent you cannot present, participate, or demonstrate any understanding of class material. You may be absent twice without penalty. After the second absence, you will lose 3 points (3% of your final grade) for every class you miss. You are responsible for the material covered in class. If you must be absent more than twice, you will not be excused unless you provide official written documentation. If you have an excused absence, missed assignments will be due the day you return to class. Please remember that if you are late by more than 10 minutes, you will be considered absent, unless you provide official written documentation.
-Participation 16%:
Participation is essential in this course. Participation includes being attentive, asking questions, taking part in group activities during class time and completion of your Reading Guides. Reading Guides will be collected twice during the semester (on the day of the midterm exam and on the day of the final exam).

-Readings from the textbook:
Your syllabus stipulates the readings you will do for every class. You must read the material in advance thoroughly and be ready to answer questions and make comments about it during class. If you did not read the material before class, you will lose your points for participation that day. With each assigned reading, you will also receive a Reading Guide with questions to help you get the most out of your reading experience.

-Presentation 10%:
You will be required to do a group presentation (2 students per group) worth 10% of your final grade. Your grade will be assigned individually and will be based on your work and effort. Presentations will consist of a dialogue (10-15 minutes long) on a variety of cultural topics that we will discuss in class in advance. You may not read your dialogue. Presentations will be held during the weeks of Nov 10th-Nov 20th in my office (if necessary, I will have extended office hours during those weeks). If you miss your presentation, you will lose the points, unless you have a properly documented excuse. If you have a properly documented excuse, your presentation will be postponed until you return to class. Please remember that you are responsible for selecting your presentation partner.

-Compositions 12%:
Compositions will help you to reinforce the grammar structures/vocabulary that we have reviewed in class. You should always include in your compositions the more recent structures we have practiced, unless instructed otherwise by me. Composition topics and the number of words required will be determined in class by me. Your compositions must be typewritten (in Spanish), double-spaced, Times New Roman, font 12 and handed to me in class by their due date. There will be 12 compositions, worth 1% each. Please write your compositions yourself: avoid the use of online translators and/or proofreaders.

-Workbook and Lab Manual 12%:
You will be required to complete listening and grammar exercises from the workbook on a regular basis. Please remember that workbook/lab manual lessons must be completed by the class period after the corresponding textbook unit has been finished. Your Workbook will be collected twice during the semester, on the date of your Midterm Exam and on the date of your Final Exam. There will be 12 workbook assignments, worth 1% each.

-Exams:
There will be two exams: a midterm exam, worth 20% of your final grade and a final exam, worth 30% of your final grade. Both exams are cumulative (they will include all the material covered up to the exam date, unless specified otherwise by me). Attendance to both exams is mandatory. Please review TAMUCC’s guidelines regarding more than two final exams on the same day and come to see me as soon as possible if you have a conflict with the exam dates. I will need at least 30 days advance written notice if you need to reschedule your Final Exam.

Late work policy: late work is only accepted if you have a properly documented, official excuse. If you have an excuse, your work will be due the day you return to class.
Should you experience technical difficulties (e.g., you are unable to print your composition by the due date), please email me your assignment immediately (Melissa.Culver@tamucc.edu) so that I can mark it as “on time”, then print your assignment and hand it in to me either in class or during office hours, no later than a day (24 hours) after its due date. Please note that I do not grade work submitted by email. If you submit late work, 0.5 points per day late will be taken off your grade (starting on the due date/time) until the work is submitted.

GRADE APPEALS

As stated in University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures (available at http://academicaffairs.tamucc.edu/rules_procedures/assets/13.02.99.C2.01_student_grade_appeal_procedure.pdf). For complete details on the process of submitting a formal grade appeal, please visit the College of Liberal Arts website, http://cla.tamucc.edu/about/student-resources.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Associate Dean’s Office.
