An intensive study of the balance sheet accounts and the related income statement accounts. It exposes the student to the various Accounting Principles Board opinions and Financial Accounting Standards Board statements as these publications affect the various accounts and transactions. It covers the various working capital accounts and operational assets.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, the students will be able to:

- interpret, apply and assess theoretical principles to account for transactions
- compile a complex income statement and statement of retained earnings, including applicable earnings per share disclosures
- compile a statement of cash flows, and a balance sheet with emphasis on assets and current liabilities
describe the accounting environment, including those who impact generally accepted accounting principles describe and apply the accounting cycle to a set of business transactions

Relationship to Other Coursework

Intermediate accounting expands and builds upon the topics covered in introductory financial accounting. The course explores the more advanced and complex aspects of identifying, measuring, and communicating financial information about economic entities to interested persons. Intermediate Accounting II continues the study begun in this course.

Instructional Methodology

Lecture, class discussion and in-class problem solving sessions.

Performance Evaluation and Grading

Student performance evaluation will be based on exams, practice sets, quizzes/attendance, homework problems, and other assignments as follows:

| | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>

A letter grade will be determined based on the percentage earned of total points possible, as follows: A: 90-100%; B: 80-89%; C: 70-79%; D: 60-69%; F: 0-59%.

Course Policies

Late quizzes: Absolutely no quizzes will be accepted after the due date. Make-ups for quizzes are not allowed.

Make-up Exams: Make-up exams are not available.

Other Exam Policies: Use of cell phones or other electronic devices during an exam will be considered a violation of academic honesty and will result in a zero on the exam and other consequences as deemed appropriate by the instructor.

Exam Calculators: Programmable calculators will not be allowed for exams.

Oral and Written Communication Content

Oral communication is emphasized during class discussions. Effective written communication is stressed through the written component of collected assignments. Furthermore, exams may include an essay question component.
Technology Applications

Students will use Excel spreadsheets and Word while completing this course. Additionally, students might be required to use a computerized accounting software package and may use CCH’s Miller-GAAP electronic database module (available through the Mary and Jeff Bell Library) to research accounting questions.

Ethical Perspectives

Accounting often involves gray areas that require judgment to resolve. Throughout the text, the importance of forming ethical judgments in these situations is stressed. Furthermore, some of the assigned material from the text focuses explicitly on the ethical dimension of accounting decision making.

Global Perspectives

The globalization of many business entities raises the issue of international accounting practices. This course discusses the International Accounting Standards Board and the dynamic relationship with U.S. based Financial Accounting Standards Board and the international merging of accounting standards.

Demographic Diversity Perspectives

This course will not specifically address the issue of demographic diversity.

Political, Social, Legal, Regulatory, and Environmental Perspectives

This course will address the influence of the SEC and other regulatory bodies on the accounting profession. There will be limited coverage of political, social and environmental issues.

Attendance Policy

Students are held responsible for class attendance and are advised that excessive absences may adversely affect their grades.

Academic Honesty

University students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, forgery, or plagiarism. (Plagiarism is the presentation of the work of another as one’s own work.) All assignments and exams are expected to be done independently unless otherwise specifically noted in the instructions.
Code of Ethics

This course, and all other courses offered by the College of Business (COB), requires all of its students to abide by the COB Student Code of Ethics (available online at www.cob.tamucc.edu). Provisions and stipulations in the code are applicable to all students taking College of Business courses regardless of whether or not they are pursuing a degree awarded by the COB.

Disabilities Accommodations

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Corpus Christi Hall 116.

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

Dropping a Class

I hope that you never find it necessary to drop this or any other class. However, events can sometimes occur that make dropping a course necessary or wise. Please consult with your academic advisor, the Financial Aid Office, and me, before you decide to drop this course. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the process to drop the course by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class. The last day to drop a class with an automatic grade of "W" for this term is April 6, 2018.

Grade Appeals

As stated in University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures. These documents are accessible through the University Rules Web site at http://www.tamucc.edu/provost/university_rules/index.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Dean’s office in the college in which the course is taught or the Office of the Provost.
