Course Materials:

Online material: I recommend that you purchase the hard copy of the book with online iLrn Passcard and Chapter Review cards ISBN: 9781305262751. The latter includes the interactive Student Activity Manual, all audio, all video and additional activities.

As this textbook and iLrn is used in French 1311 and French 1312, this syllabus covers Chapters 3 to 6

Others:

You also need to have or have access to a Computer and an E-mail Account.

A printed dictionary is always a good tool to have but is not compulsory for this class. The textbook offers an important Vocabulary list in the Appendix. Electronic dictionaries are particularly useless for beginners.

Important note: The use of electronic translators is NOT acceptable in this class for any course work. Not only is it often inadequate but it does not represent the student’s own work (see section on Academic Honesty / Plagiarism). Students using such devices and presenting the assignment as their own will be asked to re-do it in its entirety for the next class session with an automatic drop of one letter grade penalty. Failure to comply will result in a grade of “F” or “0”.

Language Lab: A minimum of five (5) hours in the Language Lab are required for this class. Additional hours (+10, for a total of 15 hours in all) will count towards extra credit.

Course Description and Course Objectives:

This course is the continuation of French 1311 offered in the Fall at TAMUCC. Therefore it is designed for students who have had a semester of French at the college level or a year or two of French at the secondary level. Once again, as it is my hope French will be of use to you in your college work and/or in your future career, the course will focus on purposeful speaking and interaction, meaningful reading and elementary-level writing within a French cultural framework. The discovery and exploration of the French-speaking world through cultural comparison are an important component of the course, in addition to the expanding of your listening and reading skills as well as of your writing and speaking communication strategies.
As a student, you will continue building your listening, speaking, reading and writing skills in the context of the study of the French-speaking world. The exploration of a wide variety of topics will provide you with abundant opportunities to discover and connect with the cultures of the French-speaking world.

Student Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, you will be able to function in natural contexts, communicate in a range of situations using adequate vocabulary and idiomatic structures, convey and understand written and oral messages with reasonable accuracy, carry on a conversation in French and demonstrate an understanding of cultural differences between the French world and your own.

Attendance: Regular attendance and active participation are essential in learning any foreign language. To better understand linguistic concepts and practice them in a supportive environment, you must be in class. You are expected to attend all classes as absences will inevitably affect your academic performance and your final grade. You will need to provide documentation for excused / emergency absences. In regards to unexcused absences, after the third unexcused absence, you will lose 3 points from your final average grade for every unexcused absence thereafter. It is very important to communicate with me about ALL absences (e-mail preferred).

Punctuality: To be on time, be early! By arriving late, not only do you miss out on instruction but you disrupt the class.

Participation: All students are expected to participate actively and show a positive attitude in class in order to maximize the learning experience. That means, being in class and on time, being ready for class (review and completion of assignments), turning in YOUR OWN work, volunteering in class, making an effort to use the French language in class and on personal assignments as much as possible according to the models, accepting the fact that making errors is part of the learning process. The participation grade will be based on all of these elements.

Classroom expectations: Because speaking in French is a major component of the class, gum and food are not tolerated in class. Cell phones should be turned off as they are a distraction, unless their use is justified by the instructor for a specific class activity. No photo or video taken in class will be allowed without the instructor's permission. Visitors will only be allowed in class if permission has been granted by the instructor in advance. Students are expected to follow the Student Code of Conduct as described in the University Student Handbook and have an amicable and respectful attitude towards their fellow students, language lab staff and instructor.

Course Evaluation System:

Grade distribution:

- Homework assignments (from Textbook, worksheets and on-line assignments)  15%
- Lab (minimum of 5 hours; + 5 points total for 10 extra hours)  10%
- Class participation  10%
- Oral exams (5 oral readings, 1 recorded oral presentation)  20%
- Written exams (3 chapter exams, 3 compositions)  20%
- Final Exam (Cumulative)  25%

Grading Policy:

- A  90-100
- B  80-89
- C  70-79
- D  60-69
- F  59 or below

Assignments due dates:
Homework will be assigned regularly for the following week. In order to count, it has to be submitted in paper form or via email on the due date. It will not be accepted after the due date unless under exceptional circumstances.

Language Lab hours (minimum of 5, maximum of 15) can be built at your own discretion. Ten additional hours for extra credit will be accepted until April 25.

Oral Exams will include the following.

- Oral Readings (total of 5) matching the chapter content will help you develop proper pronunciation, articulation, intonation, rhythm and delivery as well as acquire or reinforce vocabulary and structures, and will be practiced at the beginning of each class. These pre-recorded readings will also be available online for optional personal additional practice since the more you practice, the better the results. Finally, you will record yourself and forward your recording electronically to your instructor.
  a. the first oral reading is due February 4;
  b. the second one is due February 25;
  c. the third one is due March 22;
  d. the fourth one is due April 12;
  e. the fifth and last one is due April 26.

- The Oral Presentation of chapters 3 and 4 (combined) written composition (see below) will be recorded by you and forwarded to your instructor electronically. It is due the week of Feb 22.

Written exams will include the following.

- Chapters 3, 4 and 5 Exams (total of 3) will be done in class on Feb. 5, Feb. 28, and April 5 respectively.

- Written compositions (total of 3) will cover chapters 3 and 4 combined, 5 and 6. They are due Feb. 22 (chapters 3 and 4), March 29 (chapter 5) and April 23 (chapter 6).

The Final Exam will be cumulative and will be held on May 7, 4:30-7:00 p.m.
College of Liberal Arts Syllabus Statements

TAMU-CC has several statements that are either required or recommended as part of your syllabus and these are listed below.

Required Statements

Disabilities Accommodations

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Corpus Christi Hall 116.

If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

Academic Advising

The College of Liberal Arts requires that students meet with an Academic Advisor as soon as they are ready to declare a major. Degree plans are prepared in the CLA Academic Advising Center. The University uses an online Degree Audit system. Any amendment must be approved by the Department Chair and the Office of the Dean. All courses and requirements specified in the final degree plan audit must be completed before a degree will be granted. The CLA Academic Advising Office is located in Driftwood #203. For more information please call 361-825-3466.

Dropping a Class

I hope that you never find it necessary to drop this or any other class. However, events can sometimes occur that make dropping a course necessary or wise. Please consult with your academic advisor, the Financial Aid Office, and me, before you decide to drop this course. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the process to drop the course by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class.

Grade Appeals

As stated in University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.03, Student Grade Appeals, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.03, Student Grade Appeals. These documents are accessible online at: http://academicaffairs.tamucc.edu/rules_procedures/assets/13.02.99.C0.03_student_grade_appeals.pdf.

For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Associate Dean’s office in the college in which the course is taught. For complete details on the process of submitting a formal grade appeal in CLA, please visit the College of Liberal Arts website, http://cla.tamucc.edu/about/student-resources.html.

Recommended Statements

Classroom / Professional Behavior

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, as an academic community, requires that each individual respect the needs of others to study and learn in a peaceful atmosphere. Under Article III of the Student Code of Conduct, classroom behavior that interferes with either a) the instructor’s ability to conduct the class or b) the ability of other students to profit from the instructional program may be considered a breach of the peace and is subject to disciplinary sanction outline in Article VII of the Student Code of Conduct. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior may be instructed to leave the classroom. This prohibition applies to all instructional forums, including classrooms, electronic classrooms, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc.

Statement of Civility

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi has a diverse student population that represents the population of the state. Our goal is to provide you with a high quality educational experience that is free from repression. You are responsible for following the rules of the University, city, state and federal government. We expect that you will behave in a manner that is dignified, respectful and courteous to all people, regardless of sex, ethnic/racial origin, religious background, sexual orientation or disability. Behaviors that infringe on the rights of another individual will not be tolerated.

Academic Honesty / Plagiarism

University students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examination materials, falsification, forgery, or plagiarism (plagiarism being the presentation of the work of another as one’s own work). In this class, academic dishonesty on an assignment other than an exam will result in the student being required to re-do the work in question by a given deadline and receive a one letter grade drop penalty on that assignment (for example, B+ → C+). In the case of academic dishonesty on an exam, the student will receive a grade of “F” or “0” for the work in question with no opportunity for a retake.

Statement of Academic Continuity

In the event of an unforeseen adverse event, such as a major hurricane and classes could not be held on the campus of Texas A&M University – Corpus Christi, this course would continue through the use of Blackboard and/or email. In addition, University facilities (i.e. emails, websites, and Blackboard) will be operational within two days of the closing of the physical campus. However, students need to make certain that the course instructor has a primary and a secondary means of contacting each student.
