V. Learning Objectives/Student Learning Outcomes

This course is designed to enable students to:

A-1 Examine the role of human sexuality as a healthy aspect of life throughout the lifespan.

A-2 Gain a thorough understanding of the Six Core Elements of Human Sexuality, including 1) sexual development throughout the lifespan, 2) personal/life skills, 3) healthy (and not so healthy) relationships, 4) sexual behavior, 5) sexual health and 6) sexual issues in society and culture.

A-3 Develop a personal knowledge base related to the various subtopics subsumed under the Six Core Elements of Human Sexuality.

B-1 Become familiar with the Ten Elements of Effective Sexuality Education.

B-2 Synthesize and restructure information related to human sexuality into age-appropriate lessons for all developmental levels of learning.

B-3 Identify personal values and attitudes toward human sexuality and understand how this affects the process of teaching sex education.

B-4 Incorporate the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) into lesson planning.

C-1 Demonstrate comfort and confidence when talking about and teaching human sexuality topics in a classroom.

C-2 Practice facilitating question and answer sessions, developing responses for difficult questions.

C-3 Identify strategies to create and monitor a safe environment for teaching sexual topics in a group of diverse learners.

D-1 Analyze and compare various teaching strategies used throughout this course.

D-2 Within planning groups, develop “engaging” lesson plans and interactive learning activities that are relevant, factual, and age-appropriate for a range of grade levels.

E-1 Practice evaluating sexual health curriculum to become familiar with “best practices.”

E-2 Evaluate sexual health resource websites on the internet to determine information that may (or may not) be factual, reliable and age-appropriate.

E-3 Participate in self-assessments and process-assessments throughout this course.

F-1 Appreciate the diverse and complex nature of sexuality.

F-2 Practice adapting lessons for special populations, recognizing the variable nature of developmental abilities (and disabilities), and life experiences.

G-1 Locate and utilize a broad spectrum of educational resources including professional journals, associations, databases, curricula, and appropriate websites.

G-2 Present a “creative learning” lesson on a sexual health topic that has been thoroughly researched and planned.

H-1 Understand and support the need for appropriate and effective sexual health education for all learners.

H-2 Recognize the role that teachers play in advocating for and implementing sexual health education programs in the classroom.

H-3 Become familiar with ethical and political issues that will necessarily guide and limit the teaching of sexual health in the classroom.

IX. Course Schedule and Policies

A. Tentative Course Schedule (attached at the back of this syllabus)

B. Class Policies

1) Attendance/Tardiness: The instructor’s time is valuable but the learner’s participation in this course is equally valuable. Attend every class! Points are assigned for BOTH attendance and classroom participation so missing a class will result in points lost for both criteria. Only three kinds of absences can be excused: 1) illness, 2) death in immediate family, and 3) class field trip (with prior written authorization). An excused absence should be reported to the instructor before class begins. An e-mail, a phone call, or a phone message will be sufficient. Be sure to include your name, the date, the time, and the reason you will miss class.

   - A student’s THIRD absence, for any reason, excused or otherwise, will result in a B as the best possible grade for the course.
   - A student’s FOURTH absence, for any reason, excused or otherwise, will result in a C as the best possible grade for the course
   - A student’s FIFTH absence, for any reason, will result in a failing grade for the course.

Regardless whether absences are excused or not, students are responsible for ALL course work including class notes, assignments, deadlines, etc.

2) Late Work and Make-up Exams: The instructor has indicated deadlines for all assignments, and these are for your benefit to help you keep moving forward with all other course work. Students are accountable to complete all coursework in the timeliest manner possible and turn in assignments by their deadlines. Late work will be accepted and full credit will be given, but be aware of the dangers of procrastinating and letting work pile up until the end…it doesn’t work! Trust me on this! Attendance for exams and other important dates is mandatory and tests cannot be made-up without making prior arrangements with the instructor. Rescheduling will be at the instructor’s discretion (typically after class).

3) Extra Credit: The instructor may provide extra credit assignments to the class in general as opportunities arise, however individual students can request such extra work to help improve their course grade at any time throughout the semester. Points will be assigned at the instructor’s discretion.

4) Cell Phone/Electronic Device Usage: If I can’t use mine, you can’t use yours! It’s not fair and, frankly, it is just plain inconsiderate. That said, please bring your cell phones to class as they may be useful during certain class discussions. Therefore, you may use your cell phones when instructed to do so. Otherwise, off and away with them! This goes for tablets, laptops, and any other electronic distractions!

5) Academic Integrity/Plagiarism: University students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, falsification, forgery, complicity, or plagiarism. (Plagiarism is the presentation of the work of another as one’s own work.) In this class academic misconduct or complicity in an act of academic misconduct on an assignment or test will result in failing grade on assignment.

6) Preferred methods of scholarly citations: There is one assignment, the Final Research Project, which will require students to appropriately cite all professional sources used for facts, statistics, quotes, and theoretical underpinnings included in their reports. APA format is preferred for all citations; however, MLA will be accepted. Whichever format is used, please remain consistent throughout. Do not include footnotes on the pages of the body of the report. Attach an additional “References” or “Works Cited” page at the end of the report.

X. Textbook

The textbook adopted for this course is (required):

There are no other supplemental materials for this course at this time.
XI. Bibliography

The knowledge bases that support course content and procedures include:

Future of Sex Education Initiative. (2012). National Sexuality Education Standards: Core Content and Skills, K-12 [a special publication of the Journal of School Health].

XII. Grade Appeals

As stated in University Rule 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures, a student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see University Rule 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures, and University Procedure 13.02.99.C2.01, Student Grade Appeal Procedures. These documents are accessible through the University Rules Web site at http://www.tamucc.edu/provost/university_rules/index.html. For assistance and/or guidance in the grade appeal process, students may contact the Deans Office in the college in which the course is taught or the Office of the Provost.

XIII. Disabilities Accommodations
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please call or visit Disability Services at (361) 825-5816 in Corpus Christi Hall 116. If you are a returning veteran and are experiencing cognitive and/or physical access issues in the classroom or on campus, please contact the Disability Services office for assistance at (361) 825-5816.

XIV. Dropping a Class
Sometimes things happen that make it necessary or even wise to drop a course. No one wants to do this, but every student has at least one bad semester and we can’t predict what the coming weeks and months will bring…hopefully it’s an A! If you find yourself questioning your ability to complete this course at any time, please consult with the instructor before you decide to drop. Together we can be sure it is the best thing to do.

Should dropping the class be the best course of action, you, the student, must initiate this process by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT result in automatically being dropped from the class. November 9, 2018 is the last day to drop a class with an automatic grade of “W” this term.

XV. Statement of Civility
Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi has a diverse student population that represents the population of the state. Our goal is to provide you with a high quality educational experience that is free from repression. You are responsible for following the rules of the University, city, state and federal government. We expect that you will behave in a manner that is dignified, respectful and courteous to all people, regardless of sex, ethnic/racial origin, religious background, sexual orientation or disability. Behaviors that infringe on the rights of another individual will not be tolerated.

XVI. Statement of Academic Continuity
In the event of an unforeseen adverse event, such as a major hurricane and classes could not be held on the campus of Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi; this course would continue through the use of Blackboard and/or email. In addition, the syllabus and class activities may be modified to allow continuation of the course. Ideally, University facilities (i.e., emails, web sites, and Blackboard) will be operational within two days of the closing of the physical campus. However, students need to make certain that the course instructor has a primary and a secondary means of contacting each student.
