Course Policies:
Classroom Discussion Participation and Attendance - Communication is a primary tool for leaders and managers in organizations. As students can see from the course assessment, participation in classroom discussion is as significant in determining the final grade as is the final exam.

There are ten weeks during the semester in which student will have the opportunity to participate in classroom discussions. Students will be graded each week for their discussion participation and /or in-class exercises. Students have the opportunity to earn approximately 20 points per week. Class participation grades will reflect both the quantity and the quality of your participation.

Classroom attendance is included in this grade. Students who do not attend class will receive a grade of 0 for that day. More on attendance below.

Homework – This portion of the grade will include a number of chapter assignments. The purpose of these assignments is to enhance student comprehension of major concepts. Homework for each chapter will be available in the Connect course supplement and/or Blackboard. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of homework and submit it on time. Although in some cases students can discuss the homework, all submitted assignments should be exclusively the work of the submitting student. Only limited exceptions (for example, University excused absences) regarding homework make-ups will be made. An extended deadline will be posted if the entire class is impacted (for example, area flooding and power outage). In most other cases no credit will be given for late work.

Writing Assignments – There are two writing assignments for this class. One assignment or paper is focused on ethics. The second assignment is focused on leadership. Each assignment is valued at 50 points. More information about these assignments will be provided during the semester.

Exams and Tests – There is one final exam, which is 125 points toward a student’s grade. There are 3 tests that assess various chapters. Tests are valued at 75 points for each test. The final exam and tests may consist of a combination of multiple choice, short answer, and/or essay questions. Tests will cover assigned chapters, videos, and other materials through the time of that test. The final exam may cover all assigned chapters and materials throughout the semester.

Make-up exam/tests will only be given at the discretion of the instructor. Students are strongly cautioned to notify the instructor immediately if legitimate and insurmountable obstacles prevent them from participating in a scheduled exam session.

Attendance and class work - Attendance for all classes is expected. Any student that is absent from class for an extensive period of time, without the specific prior approval of the instructor, may be reported to the registrar as stopped attending (SA) which could have serious consequences on financial aid and/or academic standing. The last date of regular attendance will be used as the stopped attending date, regardless of homework and exam completion.

Signing in and submitting any required written assignments due during that class session demonstrate class attendance. This is a “no fault” policy, which means you can take days off for a good reason or no reason, but most non-university absences are not excused. Please consult with the instructor before any lengthy planned absence or University excused absence.
Attendance will be taken during each class. On-line activities may be offered in place of all or part of a class. These activities will be posted in Blackboard. Tardiness, leaving early, and inattention to class can result in a loss of these attendance points, please come to class on time and participate in all activities. Every class is important and regular attendance builds continuity in mastering the material.

Late Assignments - The due dates for all assignments will be strictly followed. Late assignments may or may not be accepted at the instructor’s discretion; should the instructor accept a late assignment; the instructor may reduce the grade of the assignment the equivalent of one (1) letter grade for each day the assignment is late.

Extra credit – Opportunities to earn extra credit may be offered during class or by completing other specific professional activities outside of class that have been identified and posted in advance by the instructor.

Electronic Device Usage - Computers or tablets are required to complete the course.

Academic Integrity/Plagiarism
University students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of academic honesty. Academic misconduct for which a student is subject to penalty includes all forms of cheating, such as illicit possession of examinations or examination materials, falsification, forgery, complicity or plagiarism. (Plagiarism is the presentation of the work of another as one’s own work.) In this class, academic misconduct or complicity in an act of academic misconduct on an assignment or test will result in a zero the first time and failing the course for any additional offence.

Dropping a Class
I hope that you never find it necessary to drop this or any other class. However, events can sometimes occur that make dropping a course necessary or wise. Please consult with your academic advisor, the Financial Aid Office, and me, before you decide to drop this course. Should dropping the course be the best course of action, you must initiate the process to drop the course by going to the Student Services Center and filling out a course drop form. Just stopping attendance and participation WILL NOT automatically result in your being dropped from the class. November 9th is the last day to drop a class this term.

Preferred methods of scholarly citations – APA style is the only accepted method used for citations and referencing during this class. All work should be paraphrased rather than copied directly. Material used from sources other than the text should use APA style citations and references.

In addition, the syllabus and class activities may be modified to allow continuation of the course. Ideally, University facilities (i.e., emails, web sites, and Blackboard) will be operational within two days of the closing of the physical campus. However, students need to make certain that the course instructor has a primary and a secondary means of contacting each student.
